Testimony Is Heard On Giving Up Buses

Representatives of the City government headed by Mayor John J. Schwenk, and the Consolidated School District, Chamber of Commerce and uptown businessmen, today attended a public hearing in the Municipal Auditorium on the petition of the city bus corporation seeking permission to end service on June 30.

Almost Inveective, Levitt's View on Attack by Rocky

LIBERTY, N.Y. (AP)—State Comptroller Arthur Levitt has accused Gov. Rockefeller of "in-temperature abuse" in their feud over state fiscal policies.

Levitt has contended that the state has a deficit for the fiscal year rather than being on a pay-as-you-go basis as Rockefeller claims.

Thursday night, Levitt was the principal speaker at the 47th annual Jeffersonian dinner of the Sullivan County Democratic Committee.

Obviously Upset
The comptroller, obviously upset by what he called "the first personal attack Nelson Rockefeller ever made upon me," told 1,100 diners "for the first time the governor has been indulged in in-temperature abuse almost to the point of invective."

Noting that the Republican governor campaigned against him in both 1958 and 1962, and that they had many differences of opinion, Levitt said:

"But at no time did he express anything but respect for my integrity or call into question my conscientiousness in performing my obligations to the State of New York."

The comptroller reiterated his declaration that the state had a cash deficit of $63.4 million was absolutely in accordance with the facts, and that Rockefeller's assertion that the state had ended its fiscal year by March 31, 1962, with a surplus of $2.7 million was absolutely false.

Levitt said that the state operates "on a cash basis" and that "you can only pay bills with the money you have in the fill."

Sees Move for Exposure
Democratic State Chairman William H. McKoon told the assembly that Rockefeller was criticizing the Kennedy administration to "court notoriety and gain newspaper exposure to further his own political ambitions."

Rockefeller is widely regarded as a contender for the GOP presidential nomination next year, although he has not declared his intentions.

Real Gain Unlikely on Nuclear Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top U.S. officials have very little hope at the moment that the Moscow nuclear test ban talks next month will lead to a breakthrough in the long East-West deadlock.

Their primary reason is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is reported to be holding rigidly to his position that a test ban treaty can be adequately enforced without any kind of international inspection inside the Soviet Union.

Another reason for lack of optimism regarding the U.S.-British-Russian negotiations in mid-July is that officials believe Khrushchev is under heavy pressure from his military advisors to hold another series of nuclear weapons tests later this year.

The Soviet Union, after a three-year moratorium, resumed testing in 1961 and followed up with a second round of tests in 1962. After the Soviets scuttled the moratorium, the United States also tested, and some of the best-informed authorities here now believe that the arms race probably will go on in this pattern with new weapons experiments in the fall.

If this is the outlook, Washington authorities are puzzled about the reasons why Khrushchev has chosen during the past week to respond as he has to Western initiative related to the test ban issue.

The first of these moves came a week ago when he accepted a proposal by Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to hold high level discussions in an effort to re-examine the inspection and detection problem and see whether the deadlock might be broken.

City Help Offered
Mayor Schwenk contended the city has in the past attempted to avert this situation, and expressed a willingness to cooperate with the officials of the transportation company to help solve its problems at several meetings between the Common Council Railroad and Bus committee and the bus company in his office.

"Specifically," the mayor said, "the municipal government has offered to consider the reduction or elimination of taxes to the bus company, requesting only that the company permit a city appointed accountant to confirm the need for such assistance through examination of the company's books."

Not Cooperative, He Says
The mayor said the city offered to send an accountant to the offices of the bus company and to respect the private nature of the company's financial operations. He contended that to date the company has not seen fit to take advantage of this offer.

"However," the mayor said, "I wish to again state that the city is more than willing to offer its assistance in solving the company's problems and welcomes suggestions along this line."

George Svirsky, president of the Uptown Business Men's Association, submitted a prepared statement to the committee.

He said that the company's financial position is not as good as it appears to be, and that the company is not as cooperative as it should be.

He also said that the company is not as cooperative as it should be, and that the company is not as cooperative as it should be.

Business Sector Wants It on List

Need for repair of Converse Street as an asset to the uptown business area and the Kingston Plaza Shopping Center, now being built, will be emphasized at tonight's Common Council meeting, which was called Thursday for action on a street-repair program.

A letter from Robert H. Herzog, as treasurer of Kingston Plaza Inc., will emphasize the importance of the street, which was listed for resurfacing by the Board of Public Works in the repair program originally submitted by the aldermen, but was eliminated when majority party aldermen proposed changes.

Reported Ready
Reports Thursday indicated that Democratic aldermen are ready to act on a program that will include at least 13 of the 29 streets originally submitted by the Board of Public Works.

Herzog wrote: "We would like to bring you up to date on the progress being made by Kingston Plaza Shopping Center and how important the renovation of Converse Street is to its success. At the present time there is 125,000 square feet of store space being built, comprised of an 85,000-foot department store, 23,000 feet of smaller stores such as drug, shoe, laundry etc., and an 18,000-foot supermarket."

Room for 1,800 Cars
Parking will be available for 1,800 cars, and there is ample room for store and parking expansion should the need arise.

For access to this center, Kingston Plaza is building a paved road known as Westbrook Lane, 40 feet wide and 700 feet long, starting at Clinton Avenue and running 1,850 feet long, known as Plaza Road, from Fair Street Extension to the new Washington Avenue interchange, and a 300-foot extension of Converse Street to connect it with Plaza Road.

7-Man Planning Group Announced By Esopus Board

The appointment of a Town Planning Board was the principal item of business transacted at the meeting of Esopus Town Board Wednesday evening at the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

The seven-man Planning Board named at the meeting consists of Charles Beehler, Connelly, William M. Daum, Union Center; Chester DuMond Jr., Ulster Park; John A. Henry, Port Ewen; Frank W. Kelly, Rifton; John F. Spinnenweber, Port Ewen; and William H. Van Benschoten, West Park.

It is planned to have an organization meeting of the new Planning Board, jointly with the Town Board, in the near future at which time a chairman will be selected and a date picked for regular meetings.

Group Studied Planning
Last winter, the Town of Esopus formed a committee of citizens from all sections of the township to examine the question of town planning and to determine if a planning board was desirable. The 14-man committee voted overwhelmingly in favor of planning and the establishment of a planning board. All members of the new planning board except DuMond and Henry were members of this committee.

On the motion of Councilman Sol Rosenthal, the Town of Esopus also passed a resolution favoring the establishment of a state park in Ulster County. Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson recently announced tentative plans for such a park in the Wittenberg area and urged support for the park from county political subdivisions and organizations.

William J. C. Buddenhagen, chairman of the Board of Water Commissioners of the Port Ewen Water District, announced that average daily 162,197 gallons. He also said the emergency supply system at Esopus Lake had been (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

Soviet Orbits Fifth Man, Hint He May Have Company

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced the Soviet Union put its fifth man into orbit today. He hinted at least one more cosmonaut may join him in what may be another space venture lasting several days.

The launching puts the Soviet Union one ahead of the United States, which announced the end of its Project Mercury space flights two days ago.

Is Vostok V
The new cosmonaut was identified as Lt. Col. Valeri Fedorovich Bykovsky, 28, from a small town near Moscow. His craft is named Vostok V.

The Soviet news agency Tass said "the pilot himself reports, and the telemetric system confirms, that he satisfactorily withstood the putting into orbit and the transition to a state of weightlessness and that he feels well."

Tass reported the space craft was orbiting the earth once every 88 minutes from altitudes of 112 miles to 146 miles.

The capsule was reported circling at a 65 degree angle in the equator and broadcasting on 20,006 and 143.625 megacycle frequencies.

Gives Word to Wilson
In contrast to the austere radio manned space flights, Khrushchev broke the news of this one to Harold Wilson, visiting leader of the British Labor party, at a Kremlin meeting.

Wilson, remembering that the last Soviet manned flights in August 1962 had two men aloft at once, asked how many were up this time.

"Only one so far," said Khrushchev, spreading his arms wide (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Rigby Voted Down As Return Trustee

A resolution offered by Minority Leader John J. Gaffney (D), Lloyd, at the Thursday night meeting of the board of supervisors seeking to have the board endorse the reappointment of Harry Rigby Jr., as a member of the board of trustees of the Ulster Community College, was defeated by a 15 to 10 vote.

Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle (R), 12th ward, voted for the resolution along with the nine Democratic supervisors. Abstaining were Supervisor Reginald Todd (R), Hardenbergh; Supervisor Roy J. Webber, (R), Marlborough, and Supervisor Joseph J. Turck (R), 4th ward.

Defeat of the resolution calling for the board to endorse the reappointment of Rigby brought forth strong comment from Supervisor Gaffney and Supervisor Roger Mabie (D), Esopus.

Supervisor Gaffney called attention to the service of Mr. Rigby, who, he said, was one of the investigators of the college program, and a man who had given much time to the program.

He called Mr. Rigby a "diligent worker" and said the opponents were "destroying his value to the community" in not recommending that Governor Rockefeller reappoint Rigby to a full nine-year term. Supervisor Mabie said it was "inconceivable" that anyone would vote against the resolution asking the board's endorsement.

List of Demands
A resolution by Supervisor George Majestic (D), Gardiner, seeking to have Augustus Schrowang and Associates, architects for the new county office building, take several steps before bids are let met with defeat by a 26 to 1 vote. Majestic was the sole voter favoring the resolution.

Majestic sought to have the architects secure a building permit before bids are let; secure approval of the building inspector of Kingston; secure approval of the City Council; secure approval of the Fire Department and the fire commissioners of Kingston.

Trooper Plan Is to Put Men on Road

"Crime does not pick its time," Captain Carl A. Lawson, commanding officer of "C" Troop, New York State Police, told the board of supervisors Thursday night when he appeared before the board and explained the present setup of troop stations in Ulster County.

In order to give 24-hour protection in the county with the available men, Captain Lawson said it had become necessary to make some changes in order to put the men on the road rather than have a number of the troopers manning stations.

In Ulster County the Phoenicia station has been closed and the Kingston station, a 24-hour day manned station, has taken over calls to that station. The three men previously assigned there are now available and through radio contact can be dispatched to any trouble in the area.

Not Closing Highland
The Highland station has not been closed and will not be, Captain Lawson said, but there will be no man assigned to "desk" duty there. The 10-men in that area will be available for a 24-hour duty on the road.

Captain Lawson came to Kingston on invitation of the board after Supervisor Joseph Truck (R) Fourth Ward, had at the last meeting of the board moved that some official information be secured on the reported closing of the Highland station.

Since May 1 when an eight-hour, five-day week went into effect, Captain Lawson said it now takes four men to keep one man working. Although there were additions to the force, there are not men enough to man small stations and put men on the road on a 24-hour basis.

Desk Man on Duty
Ulster County will continue to have the Kingston station manned 24 hours a day with a man on duty at all times in the station to answer calls. From that station radio calls will go out to patrol cars in all sections of the county and men can quickly be at the scene of any crime and emergency. Highland and Ellenville will continue to be operated, and, he pointed out that only the Phoenicia station (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Steps Explained For Relocating Downtown Folk

Steps his office is undertaking to bring about the relocation of families in the Broadway East project area with a minimum of hardship to site occupants, were outlined by Ralph A. Marallo, relocation director, at a recent meeting in the City Hall attended by members of three urban renewal sub-committees, the housing relocation, other groups and the clergy.

Marallo said federal regulations require that families shall have full opportunity to occupy housing that is decent, safe and sanitary, that is within their financial means, and that is in a reasonably convenient location.

Urban Renewal Director Ward B. Tongue reviewed the status of the Uptown and Broadway East projects. The plans for Broadway East, he said, is now being reviewed by the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Prior to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Training Pays Off--22 Flee Fiery School Bus

ORANBURG, N.Y. (AP)—Superbly trained for such a crisis, 22 school children evacuated their burning school bus Thursday after it collided with a tractor-trailer truck.

None of the children was burned and only four suffered minor injuries in the collision. The truck also burst into flames.

The driver of the truck, John Post, 31, of Piermont, was killed. The children, from Chestnut Grove School in Rockland County, had been on a field trip to New York and were on their way home when the collision occurred on Route 303 near here. The children are fourth graders, with most of them being 9 years old.

Security Inquiry Imminent

Threats of Tory Rebellion Seethe

LONDON (AP)—A British attorney charged today that Capt. Yevgeni Ivanov, Soviet assistant naval attaché, asked Christine Keeler to wheedle the West's nuclear secrets from ex-War Minister John Profumo.

The charge was made by Michael H. B. Eddowes, prominent London solicitor, in a letter to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Concerned About Silence
He said he had earlier reported this accusation to Scotland Yard but now had become concerned that nothing had been done about it.

Miss Keeler, 21, was mistress of both Ivanov and Profumo in 1961. Profumo quit the government last week, admitting he lied to cover his relationship with her. Eddowes delivered the letter personally to Macmillan's office Thursday. Its delivery seemed a probable explanation of an emergency meeting Macmillan called this morning with Home Secretary Henry Brooke, and Lord Dilhorne, who as lord chancellor is head of the judiciary.

Dilhorne this week completed a report on the Profumo affair which was reported to have cleared Profumo of any security leak.

Five Names Omitted
Eddowes issued the text of his letter, complete except for the names of five persons who he said were intimately connected with the affair.

There were indications Macmillan summoned the two ministers to discuss a new investigation into the government sex scandal threatening his political life.

The British Press Association lobby correspondent reported: "There seems some reason to think they discussed whether a new tribunal should be set up to inquire into the security aspects of the Profumo affair."

Such an inquiry is almost certain to be demanded by opposition Laborites when the scandal gets its first big parliamentary airing Monday.

Macmillan Holds On
A preliminary report on security aspects of the case already has been presented to the Cabinet by Dilhorne. Official sources say this report found there were no actual security breaches involved.

Laborites want to know about possible security risks—as distinct from actual breaches of security.

The prime minister was clinging desperately to command while new threats of rebellion seethed in his party.

Macmillan rode out one more day of crisis Thursday with his cabinet outwardly intact. But his hold on the party, scared and shaken by the Profumo scandal, seemed to be weakening steadily.

The local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will picket Woolworth's Wall Street store today from 7 to 9 p. m. This announcement was made to the press at noon today by a spokesman for the organization, who said there will be picketing on Saturday also, but no hours were specified. Picketing here is in sympathy with a situation considered detrimental to Negroes at one of the firm's southern stores.

Upstate Republicans Not Accepting Rocky's Refusal on Reapportionment

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Influential Upstate Republicans, fearful that Democrats could capture control of the Legislature next year, are unlikely to accept as final Gov. Rockefeller's refusal to permit a reapportionment next fall.

Among those who have been agitating behind the scenes for a prompt redistricting of legislative seats are such formidable figures as Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney and GOP State Chairman Fred A. Young.

formed sources said Mahoney and Young could be expected to continue their pressure during the summer.

Their objective is a special session in late November that would redraw district lines to enhance GOP chances in next year's election. All seats in the Legislature will be at stake.

Fear Strong JFK Run
What worries Mahoney, Young and other Upstate Republicans is the prospect that a strong run by President Kennedy in the 1964 presidential election could sweep enough Democratic legislative candidates into office to tip control of one or both houses of the Legislature to the Democrats.

"If it's a Kennedy landslide, the way Roosevelt used to run, we'll lose both houses for sure," a top-ranking Republican predicted recently.

The GOP now has an 85-65 majority in the Assembly and a 33-25 margin in the Senate. The party could afford to lose no more than 10 seats in the Assembly or four in the Senate.

There appears to be at least that many marginal seats that could fall to the Democrats in a Kennedy sweep.

Despite the pleadings and warnings of the Upstate wing of his party, Rockefeller holds that no reapportionment should be undertaken until a challenge of the 69-year-old redistricting formula is (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Reds Use Dixie Strife as Reply To Pilots' Fate

PANMUNJON, South Korea (AP) — A North Korean general refused again today to disclose the fate of two U.S. pilots.

Asked to "act like men living in the 20th Century," the Communist whipped out a photograph of a police dog lunging at a Negro in Birmingham, Ala.

"Such coldblooded atrocities are the true picture of what you call civilization and respect for human rights," said Maj. Gen. Chang Chun-hwan.

The U.N. member of the Military Armistice Commission, Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, replied that racial tensions in the United States had nothing to do with the business of the commission.

The meeting was the fifth since the Army helicopter of Capt. Ben. W. Stutts, 30, of Florence, Ala., and Capt. Charles W. Veltz, 26, of Frankfurt, Mich., was forced down in Communist territory May 17.

The two officers were last seen being led off by North Korean soldiers.

Would Buy Refinery
MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union wants to buy a $280-million oil refinery from Britain, British Labor party leader Harold Wilson says.

Wilson, reporting on conferences Thursday with Soviet Trade Minister Nikolai Patolichev, said the Russians have discussed the deal with British industrialists. He did not indicate what progress had been made.

Paris Okay's Treaty
PARIS (AP) — The Gaullist majority in the National Assembly approved the French-West German cooperation treaty today. Debate on the pact starts Thursday in the Senate, where approval is a virtual certainty.

The assembly vote was 325-107, with 42 abstentions. Supporters of European unity attacked the treaty as unduly nationalistic and outdated.

The Senate's action will complete ratification of the accord signed in January by President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to foster cooperation in political, military and economic affairs.

The West German Parliament gave its final approval May 31.

Push Peace Talks
VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—British Ambassador Donald Hopson and Soviet Ambassador Sergei Afanassiev flew to Pathet Lao headquarters at Khang Khay today in an attempt to get the pro-Communist to resume peace talks with neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma.

Britain and the Soviet Union are co-chairmen of the Geneva conference on Laos, and Hopson said they were sent in that capacity. But Prince Souphannouvong, the Father Lao chief, said previously he would receive them only as representatives of their governments.

Pathet Lao troops attacked a rightist outpost southeast of Attapeu in southern Laos Thursday, but were reported repulsed with heavy losses.

Charges Party

Macmillan fired 11 months ago, came what looked like a new and dangerous challenge to the prime minister's leadership.

The country is asking for courageous and confident leadership not based on expediency, but based on objective moral standards and irreproachable behavior in high office," Lloyd told a Conservative banquet.

Cabinet Holds Firm
Members of the Labor and Liberal parties kept up a chorus of demands for Macmillan's resignation.

The cabinet still stood by Macmillan. But there was no assurance the solid front would be maintained. Health Minister Enoch Powell continued to be mentioned as the potential leader of a revolt. Education Minister Sir Edward Boyle was another reported wavering.

It was notable that Powell took no measures to deny the persistent reports that he was contemplating quitting. His resignation could be the first rock of a landslide that would force Macmillan to give way to another Conservative leader.

Toughest Test Monday
Macmillan's toughest test comes on Monday, when he faces House of Commons debate on the issues raised by former War Minister John Profumo's Christine Keller.

Profumo, 48, resigned last week after confessing he had lied to Parliament to keep his 1961 liaison with Miss Keeler secret. She had at the same time been dallying with a Soviet naval attaché.

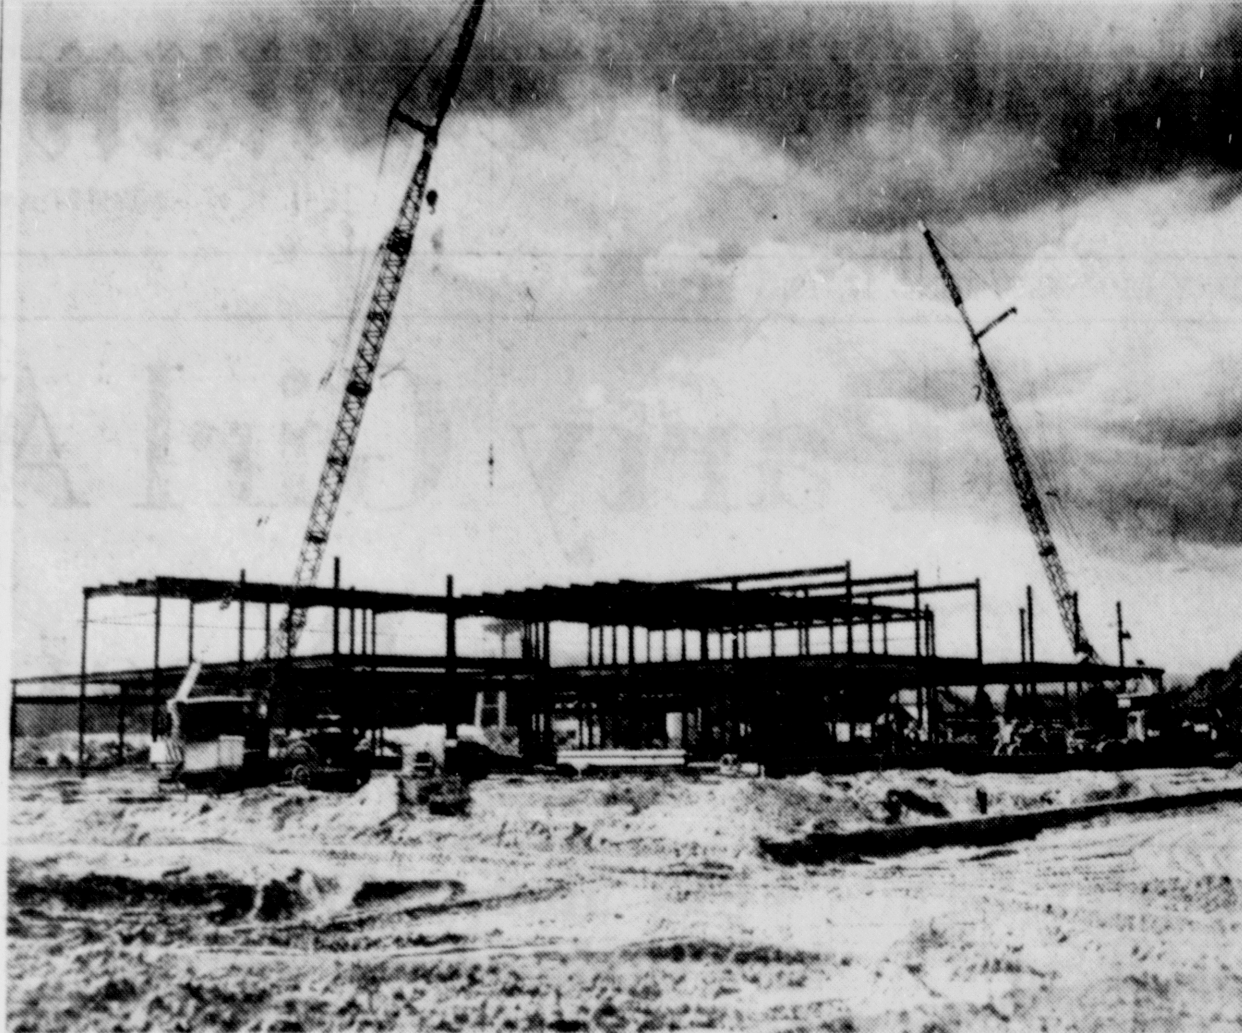

Macmillan was widely accused of negligence in not finding out sooner about Profumo, the girl and the Russian, and in continuing to believe Profumo's denials of guilt over a period of months.

Fears Complete Collapse

Last December, Quimby said, Supervisor Clarence C. Raichle, 12th Ward, had offered a resolution calling for a study of a "county-wide sales tax." It was tabled and referred to the Tax Base Study committee. Six months later and there has been no report.

Quimby said no full decision could be made in a short time, but he suggested that committee meetings be held and the matters investigated, otherwise the committee system would become a "farce."

In view of what has happened Quimby said he had serious doubts in his mind "over the effectiveness of the committee system during the present administration."

Chairman McHugh assured Quimby he would see that committee met. He also cited the activities on which he was chairman. Chairman McHugh said chairmen sometimes find difficulty in getting committees to meet.

Majority Leader Peter Williams (R), Saugerties, said as chairman of the Tax Base Study Committee, he had been actively getting information and until the committee had sufficient facts, there was little use to hold meetings. He had made an extensive inquiry into the sales tax proposal and was against it unless adjacent counties also imposed such a tax.

Supervisor Reginald Todd (R), Hardenbergh, came to the aid of Chairman McHugh, saying "you tell them to meet, it is not your jurisdiction if they don't meet," and he suggested it was up to the committee chairman to see the committees do meet.

A bid for erection of the Cherrytown bridge in Town of Rochester was accepted. Low bidder is Standard Engineering Corporation of Albany at $54,660. Anthony Costanzi Corporation of Kingston was second low at $66,200. Pinebrook Construction Company of New York bid $74,400 and Shanahan Construction Company of Ellenville bid $88,840. Work is to be completed before opening of schools so as not to delay school buses.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the county to commence condemnation proceedings to acquire a property on Lucas Avenue Extension where agreement as to price could not be arrived at by negotiations. The parcel is needed for road improvement.

Ulster County Savings Institution served notice that it would hold the county responsible for damage to its air conditioning system caused by sand blasting operations at the court house. Referred to Insurance Committee.

Local Historic Records Are To Be Returned After Work

Local historic records recently removed to be indexed and catalogued were not given away and will be returned to the county on demand, Supervisor Charles Relyea, (R) Hurley told Ulster County Board of Supervisors Thursday night.

The matter was brought to the floor by Kenneth E. Hasbrouck of Town of Gardiner, association county historian, who asked about a report earlier in the week that the documents are now in the hands of Queens College, Flushing, L. I. He asked about the removal of the records which were described as "priceless documents of early American history."

Hasbrouck said he hoped they would be returned from Queens College as soon as possible and commended the board for its action in taking steps to have the records preserved and recorded on film. He added the records belonged here and he suggested that if no provision had been made for storage in the new county office building, that they go to the Senate House or to letters endorsing the establishment of a County Planning Board.

Reports Progress

A report was made by Augustus Schrowang, architect, on progress of the work on remodeling the court house and on the completion of work at the A & P building on North Front Street which will be used as temporary housing of county departments during construction of the new county office building.

Schrowang said bids would be sought by June 15 for the new building and the date of opening of bids would be July 15. Work will commence immediately if a satisfactory bid is received.

The board convened shortly after 8:30 o'clock. A recess was taken at 9:52 for caucuses and the session re-assembled at 12:14 a. m. and adjourned at 12:51 a. m.

Finds SPCA Facilities Good

Supervisor Joseph J. Turck (R), Fourth Ward, gave a report on the activities of the SPCA. He said he had inspected the facilities, found them in good order and reported a financial statement was on file in the clerk's office as to expenditures of county funds allocated to the association.

A report of inspection of the Ulster County Infirmary was filed. Clifford P. Talcott, area director, reported an inspection on April 5 by Mrs. Ann M. Wenberg, RN, at which time the infirmary was "well maintained" and well operated. An additional nurse was recommended and it was also recommended that all medicine be administered by a licensed nurse. Plans for expansion were suggested.

Cops, Hoses Put Off Vigil Stand

DANVILLE, Va. (AP) — Police and the threat of fire hoses broke up a planned all-night vigil by Negroes on the steps of the Municipal Building Thursday night.

Underscoring what was termed a get-tough policy, state police sent two armored cars and police dogs into reserve on the outskirts of this city of 47,000 which has been teetering on the edge of racial violence for nearly two weeks.

Mayor Julian R. Stinson, who returned Thursday night from a Richmond conference with Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. to find about 100 chanting demonstrators camped on the steps, told Negro leaders he would meet with them.

But "I am not going to meet with a bunch of criminals," he said.

Local Historic Records Are To Be Returned After Work

The New Paltz State University College for safekeeping.

County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft in a report to The Freeman Thursday said many of these documents and records are now temporarily in possession of the Department of History at Queens College. They are being catalogued, indexed and microfilm in accordance with a resolution unanimously adopted in February by Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The resolution states, "legal possession of these records and materials will be retained by the county and will be returned upon request."

Supervisor James T. McCordle (D) Ninth Ward suggested that the county clerk be invited to the next meeting of the board of supervisors to report on the progress of the processing of the records.

Craft sent a communication to the board outlining what had been done and what steps had been taken to protect the documents. The work being done by Queens College is at no cost to the county and copies of the microfilm will be provided to the county. Two reels of records have already been received by the county, Craft reported.

in the necessary water and sewer lines, fire hydrants, etc.

Must Have Facilities

"We feel that the moving of Montgomery Ward from the uptown business area to Albany Avenue has pinpointed the competition of periphery shopping center with the City of Kingston, and it appears essential that if Kingston is to maintain its position as a regional shopping center, facilities must be provided for possible expansion of existing stores, parking, and free, uninterrupted movement of traffic."

"The two new parking areas on North Front Street, and the facilities available at Kingston Plaza Shopping Center are important steps in this direction. However, the key to any shopping area is the ease of ingress and egress, and we have heard considerable criticism of the uptown business area's accessibility, not only from prospective tenants, new to this area, but also from local stores. Such criticism is a selling point for shopping areas outside the city limits."

"For example: a chain store presently located in the uptown area is thinking of moving because they want to expand their present store to 50,000 feet. The choice is between Kingston Plaza Shopping Center or an area outside the city. They want to stay in the city, but one of their worries is the present condition of Converse Street."

To Carry Much Traffic

"The new Washington Avenue interchange probably won't be ready for another year, and in the interim Converse Street will be called on to bear the brunt of traffic on the west side of the uptown business area, and connecting the shopping center with the two parking areas on North Front Street. Even after Washington Avenue is opened, Converse Street will still be a major link to the uptown business area."

"In order to assure prospective tenants of access streets in the uptown area, it is essential that Converse Street be included in the 1963 street program, and other streets in the uptown area be kept in the best condition."

He asked that the aldermen contact him, if they have any questions.

Object to Work

Democratic party aldermen object to work at this time on Wall and North Front Streets, listed in the original program of the BPW which called for an expenditure of $179,124 for reconditioning 29 streets. They approve, however, of the repair of Fair Street from Pearl to Greenkill Avenue. They also oppose work on sections of Broadway.

Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, today said delayed action on the street program originally submitted April 23, would have meant layoffs in the department, had not vacations for many employees been made effective at this time, and not at various requested times. Further delays, he said, could bring layoffs.

Steps Explained

Common Council approval of the plan, he noted, two public hearings must be held, one by the planning board and the other by the council.

John W. Lawson, a member of the Citizens' Executive Advisory Committee, was chairman of the meeting and conducted a question and answer period. In thanking the members for their participation, he requested them to keep abreast of developments in their respective phases of urban renewal.

statement, which stated in conclusion, "We believe that public transportation is a necessity in Kingston and can be operated profitably. We hope the PSC will insure continued bus service in Kingston."

Losses Back to 1961

Mrs. Vera H. Gadd, wife of the corporation president, Thomas J. Gadd, of this city, testified from records that the company losses were increasing yearly since 1961, along with extensive cuts in passenger service.

Examined by Louis P. Francello of the law firm of Francello and Brimmer, Mrs. Gadd categorically quoted losses as shown in the financial records of the firm as follows: 1962 — $12,686.60; 1961 — $17,802.19; 1960 — $1,998.58; 1959 — $5,019.69; 1958 — $13,623.52; and for the first five months of 1963 ending May 31 the loss was $1,465.54.

The witness testified as to the number of passengers carried on buses as follows: 1958—1,251,652 cash fares, 105,302 school children; 1959—971,801 cash fares, 136,569 school fares; 1960—796,675 cash fares, 110,677 school fares, 83,372 permits; 1961 — 683,408 cash, 125,587 pupils, 94,000 permits; 1962 — 516,273 cash, 206,455 pupils; and for the five month period ending May 31 1963—186,518 cash, 112,866 pupils.

Mrs. Gadd testified that in her opinion she doesn't think the bus company can operate efficiently and give satisfactory service to the city after the end of this month.

The witness contended that the company had received no tax relief from the city, and testified it has been difficult to obtain drivers to man all buses owned by the firm.

Mrs. Gadd told Examiner Titus that if the company is to continue to operate, further curtailment of service will be necessary.

William Collins, an employee of the bus company testified that his duties include company adviser, clerk, mechanic, driver, and part-time bookkeeper. He testified the company has 14 buses, 10 of which are in service, and only six of those in good operating condition.

Alderman Speaks

Alderman Frank A. Adams of the Fifth Ward in a statement, not under oath, said many people in the Fifth Ward are elderly and have no means of transportation and depend on the bus service.

"We need bus transportation, and better, improved bus service," the alderman said.

Mrs. Gadd contended "there is nothing to gain by having a city appoint an accountant to examine the books and records of the company."

Albert Kurt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce submitted a statement by Harry Rigby Jr., C. of C. president.

The statement read: "In regard to cessation or drastic curtailment of present bus service in the City of Kingston, the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce would exceedingly regret any unnecessary action that would result in hardship or inconvenience to the people of Kingston."

"It is our urgent desire that all parties to be involved in solving present difficulties work faithfully and diligently toward the benefit of the City of Kingston and its citizens."

The statement by George Sivinsky, president of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association, which stated the group believes the public transportation is a necessity and can be operated profitably follows:

"As businessmen in Kingston's major shopping district, we certainly do not expect any company to continue to operate if it consistently shows that it is losing money."

"Yet, as businessmen, we also know that management must be able to adjust its operation to the changing demands of the times in order to carry on a profitable business."

"We can observe in the uptown shopping area that many citizens of our city depend upon the bus service. Many of these people are senior citizens, living on fixed incomes, who can no longer afford to operate automobiles or who are no longer physically capable of driving. Others are parents of growing families who cannot afford the freedom of time and movement that two cars provide. And many are our younger residents, who do not yet have the use of a car, and whose parents are not always able to chauffeur them around."

"While dependence on public transportation has lessened, it is obvious that there are still large groups of our population who require the service provided by the Kingston City Transportation Corp., and it is clear to the uptown businessmen that the elimination of public transportation facilities must have an adverse effect on the economic levels of the city's prime business and financial district."

"We feel that progressive, enlightened management should be able to adjust its operations to the times, not only by curtailing service, but also by investing in less expensive new equipment that can be operated economically. To our knowledge, this latter step has never been taken."

Sidney Kabalkin, associate attorney for the PSC appeared for the state, and Harry Gold, corporation counsel of the city cross-examined witnesses for the city.

Others attending the hearing included Aldermen Arthur Smith, Ward 8; and John Machione, Ward 12.

Dramatic Funeral Is Prepared for Slain CR Leader

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—An air of foreboding hung over this city today as Negro leaders signalled for a "March, March, March" strategy and prepared a dramatic funeral for a slain civil rights leader.

Police and FBI agents pursued clues into several states in their hunt for the sniper who ambushed Medgar W. Evers, a field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, early Wednesday.

Evidence found near the scene of the murder had been rushed to the FBI laboratories in Washington, but so far there was no solution of the crime.

The evidence included one fingerprint found on a rifle evidently used to kill Evers as he prepared to enter his home.

Civil rights leaders from many states are expected to attend the funeral of Evers at the Negro Masonic Temple Saturday. It was announced that Evers, a veteran of World War II, would be buried

Good Will Needed, Not CR Promises, Demonstrations

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—"Conciliation and understanding," not demonstrations or civil rights legislation, are needed to bring about an end to racial discrimination, says Rep. John R. Pillion.

The Buffalo Republican told a newsman Thursday that segregation "is a human, not a legal, problem."

"We need a maximum of good will on the part of both colored and white to realize the greatest equality," he said.

"Street demonstrations," said Pillion, produce ill will, misunderstanding and hatred.

"Legislation produces at best a hollow victory. It will not reach the core of the problem, which is, basically, moral, spiritual, sociological and economic. I think it a disservice to tell either colored or whites that civil rights legislation is going to cure this fundamental illness."

Both Kennedy, Nikita Have Their Problems

Second Term May Hinge On Handling Race Woes

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, his hands full with the race problem, made a pleasant gesture toward the Russians. The Russians, their hands full with the Red Chinese, have not been unusually unpleasant toward him.

Thus Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev, without new foreign troubles, have more time to spend on the ones closer to home while both of them probably wish they could spend all their time trying to solve their problems with each other.

Asks New Look

"Let us re-examine our attitude toward the Soviet Union," Kennedy said this week in a speech announcing nuclear test ban talks would resume in Moscow in July. "Let us re-examine our attitude toward the Cold War."

On July 5 the Russians meet with their severest critic in the Communist world, the Red Chinese. The talks should be over by the time the test ban talks begin later in the month.

Kennedy's rather conciliatory statements put no extra heat on Khrushchev although whether this is to his advantage in talking with the Chinese is open to question since their main complaint is that he's a softy with the West.

Meanwhile, watching Kennedy up to his neck in the race problem, Pravda and Izvestia published the full text of his speech, which was unusual, and a Kremlin commentator called it "extremely significant."

Hits to Berlin

NEW YORK (AP)—The two one-act plays which won off-Broadway awards this season for Murray Schisgal are to be presented during Berlin's theater festival.

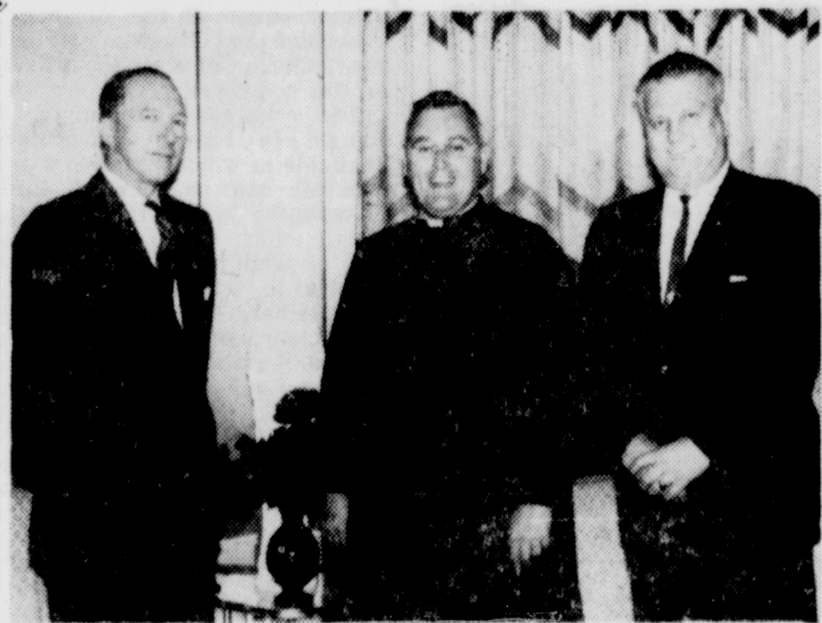

But Western diplomats didn't see any change in Soviet policy and anyone who tries to read deep significance into all this at this time looks more like an astrologer than an astronomer.

Since the Russian-Chinese dispute is bitter and deep it isn't likely to be settled at the July 5 meeting and Khrushchev will probably be wrestling with his Asian neighbors for a long time to come.

Nor is Kennedy by the magic of a few civil rights bills—if they pass in Congress—going to solve in a few months a racial problem which has been a problem for centuries.

No More Than Illusion

It's not only a problem which will remain with him through his first term in the presidency but through the second, too, if he has a second. It may not seem so now, but the way he handles the problem could make or break his chances for a second term.

COUSIN OF K OF C FOUNDER HERE—Brother T. M. Murphy of Christian Brothers of Ireland became a member of the Knights of Columbus, Council 275 just recently. ## A Boy Scout Trust Fund

... to keep the campfires bright!

More than ever before, in today's age of speed and science—boys need the foundation of Scouting in order to meet the challenge of the complex modern world which will soon be theirs.

To help meet this challenge the Rip Van Winkle Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America, has established the Boy Scout Trust Fund—a means of developing today's youth as tomorrow's leaders. Through the Boy Scout Trust Fund, tax free gifts and bequests may be designated to the important work of the Scouting Movement.

If you would like to provide a tribute that is lasting, with an investment that pays dividends by extending the privileges and values of Scouting to over 3200 boys throughout Ulster and Greene Counties—you might consider the Boy Scout Trust Fund.

The Boy Scout Trust Fund is a New York Trust and is governed in all respects by the laws of the State of New York. The Trust Agreement has been approved by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, and is recognized as an excellent instrument for use as a private, non-profit, non-sectarian membership corporation in carrying out the wishes of contributors to the Trust Fund.

As Trustee of the Boy Scout Trust Fund, may we suggest that you either see your attorney or visit our Trust Department for more complete details on how you may help "keep Scouting's campfires bright" through the Boy Scout Trust Fund.

WATER PROBLEM

Warnings about a possible crisis in water supply have become so common that many people tend to shrug them off. Throughout many communities, committees are formed to investigate new sources of water supply. However, there still is an inclination to treat such warnings as though they were cries of "Wolf" when there is no wolf.

This reaction is encouraged, in most communities, by the circumstance that water still gushes from the taps as it always has. No shortage is readily apparent, hence public concern is not yet very high.

Public concern had better start rising. The water problem is bad in many parts of the country, and it is certain to become worse. Even allowing for possible exaggeration to emphasize the point, one gets a sharp indication of how big the problem is from this remark by Lieut. General W. K. Wilson, Jr., U. S. Army chief of engineers: "More reservoir capacity must be built in less than 20 years than has been constructed heretofore in the country's entire history."

The increased demands for water by giant industrial concerns should serve to alert many citizens who have been indifferent to cries of alarm about the danger of water shortages. An informed, aroused citizen body will be needed if this danger is to be dealt with in the broad-gauge, concerted way that the situation requires. No piecemeal approach can do the job satisfactorily.

Water is a very precious gift and should be conserved. There is entirely too much of it wasted.

Some fellow demanded a "revolution" in education, and people who fear that word were irked—until they found that the fellow using it was Ike's brother Milton.

SOUND SEC PROPOSAL

If Congress goes along with Securities and Exchange Commission recommendations, over-the-counter security transactions will become subject to the same strict requirements now made of companies listed on the stock exchanges. These requirements apply particularly to filing adequate annual reports to stockholders.

Preparation of annual financial reports by over-the-counter companies is now left to the discretion of the company. There is danger in doing things this way because not all companies like to reveal pertinent facts and figures. Unsophisticated investors, meanwhile, might be led to buy shares in a corporation financially in poor shape, with nothing on file to disclose it.

Not that all businesses in this category are small and weak. Some very substantial stocks are marketed over the counter. Nonetheless, as trading grows in this area so does the peril to the investing public.

A measure of the growth can be seen from the following statistic. In a dozen years stocks traded have gone from five billion to 40 billion dollars in value, an eight-fold increase. And inevitably a large part of this participation derives from so-called naive money, investors anxious to make a quick buck who are sure they've found the answer in over-the-counter securities.

Now some may object to the extension of SEC authority into this field. But not those who believe in full financial disclosures as a means of keeping the stock market less wild and woolly.

Supermarket chains are setting up egg factories. The only thing they have in common with the old chicken house is the hens.

The astronauts will sell their stories for three millions. The only thing that costs more is getting them up in space so they'll have stories to sell.

PATIENCE CAN HURRY THINGS UP

Washington, D. C.—The impulses that project ancient problems into the news headlines and keep them there for days and weeks are as mysterious as the movement of lemmings, and even more fascinating.

At the present moment we are being treated to a run of stories that focus on the "same" of our national capital, whose streets are supposed to be dangerous to venture upon after dark, and whose school system is pictured as being at the mercy of juvenile hoodlums who slug teachers in the halls. Well, Washington has been here for a long time, and like other big cities, it has had its slums for a long time. The Washington Evening Star, quite rightly, objects to the suddenly superheated quality of the stories depicting the whole District of Columbia as a jungle. As for myself, I can testify from personal visits to classrooms that only one side of the Washington public school story has been told. True enough, the influx of poor Negro families from the South has strained the District's educational facilities. But the District School Superintendent, Carl Hansen, hammers away at the so-called "basics" of education, and the fact of the matter is that Washington Negro kids get better teaching in the fundamentals of English and arithmetic than can be had in most schools elsewhere in the land in which white children predominate.

Another run of stories, mostly inspired from Washington, focuses on the problem of national illiteracy. Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel has been sounding off about the eight million Americans of 25 years of age and up who have had less than five years of school. Then there are twenty-three million Americans of 18 and over who quit before entering high school. Keppel calls these people—who, after all, can read and write and do simple addition and subtraction—the "functional illiterates." They simply do not read enough.

No doubt the problem of "functional illiteracy" is serious, for boys and girls who drop out of school at an early age can handle only the most rudimentary type of job. But such people have been with us a long time now, and if laws compelling school attendance to the age of 16 mean anything the problem should tend to disappear in the natural course of events. The plain fact is that a certain amount of joblessness that is supposed to come from "functional illiteracy" derives from our administration of relief, which encourages people to refuse jobs they do not happen to like. In the Miami area Cubans have been taking jobs that are considered by native Miamians to be beneath them merely because they involve getting one's hands dirty.

Finally, there are the stories about an unappealing unrest among the northern Negroes. These stories stress the fact that Negroes are now unwilling to "wait" for a remission of what President Kennedy has called the "cruel disease of discrimination." No one can blame the Negroes for being angry at being cooped up in ghetto areas or in being denied jobs because of their color. But the disease of discrimination has been around for a long time, and in the nature of things, it is something that does not yield to overnight cures. To end social discrimination involves thousands of personal conversations, and these cannot be accomplished by passing laws.

The cruel disease of social discrimination has been abating, however. It wasn't so long ago that members of the St. Louis Cardinals in the National Baseball League were threatening to go on strike rather than play against Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson. But the strike was suppressed, and the color line in baseball was ended forever. Sugar Ray Robinson, the Negro middleweight, "waited" for his tennis playing protegee, Althea Gibson, to develop enough skill to challenge the erstwhile "white supremacists" at Forest Hills in the national championships. By using patience, Miss Gibson brought her "waiting" to a successful conclusion.

The northern Negro has been "waiting" to his advantage in several fields. His current impatience is quite understandable, but, since to break out of ghettos involves earning enough money to buy real estate, a certain amount of economic "waiting" will be inevitable in any event. In general, the exercise of patience is something that makes friends and influences people—which means that a willingness to "wait" can, paradoxically, hurry things up.

False Pregnancy Symptoms Can Be Real to Sufferer

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What are the usual symptoms of false pregnancy? What causes it?

A—False pregnancy occurs chiefly in women who are nearing the menopause, or in young women who intensely desire a baby.

In such persons the abdomen becomes very large, due either to a rapid accumulation of fat or to distention of the intestines with gas. In rare cases, the condition may be due to an accumulation of fluid in the abdominal cavity.

Usually there is not a complete suppression of menstruation, but the periods may become irregular and the flow may become scanty.

Some women with this condition even interpret the sudden movement of gas within the intestines as a sign of life or fetal kicking. It is often hard to persuade a woman who believes she is pregnant that this is not the case.

Q—Why do I get a severe throbbing pain in my spine whenever I have a violent quarrel or sudden emotional upset?

A—This is a fairly common experience. Sudden emotions often cause a squeezing pain in the adrenal gland similar to the squeezing pain in the parotid salivary gland you sometimes get when, after not eating for several hours, you put something very sour in your mouth (this is worse if you have the mumps).

The sudden outpouring of adrenal secretion into the blood increases your pulse rate and gives you a quick release of energy to enable you to fight or run. If you do neither, your blood pressure goes up.

Q—My husband has a middle lobe syndrome. Is there any treatment other than surgery?

A—The bronchus that leads to the middle lobe of the right lung is especially susceptible to compression by lymph nodes that have become enlarged due to tuberculosis, histoplasmosis or some other infection.

The compression leads to bronchiectasis (described in a previous column), and the damming-back of infected sputum below the obstruction. This is referred to as "middle lobe syndrome."

Surgical removal of the middle lobe is no longer the formidable operation it once was. This operation gives the only chance of a real cure.

Q—What is the salicylate that some people say is better than anything else for arthritis? What is the difference between plain aspirin and other salicylates? Is the effect one of pain killing?

A—Aspirin, which is acetyl salicylic acid, and sodium salicylate are closely related. They are about equally effective in relieving the pain of arthritis, but sodium salicylate is not recommended for persons who have heart or kidney diseases, who must restrict their sodium intake.

These two drugs, in addition to relieving pain, have some specific curative effect on rheumatic fever and rheumatoid arthritis.

Q—Would taking two teaspoonfuls of cider vinegar and two teaspoonfuls of honey four times a day cause too great a thinning of the blood?

A—It would not thin the blood, but the advantages of this rather senseless procedure have been greatly overstated.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

TO THE RESCUE!

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Kennedy's commencement "remarks" on world peace at American University in Washington were directed to other audiences than the one which heard him.

To all college graduates just starting out on their chosen careers, it was a message of inspiration. War and annihilation are not inevitable. Peace and world rule through law are attainable if human beings put their mind to it. This theme made the President's foreign policy statement important.

To Russia's Chairman Nikita Khrushchev and the Communist Party Central Committee which convenes in Moscow June 18, President Kennedy's speech was a challenge.

Change your ideology from world conquest and domination to an effort to end the arms race and devote its massive sums to combating ignorance, poverty and disease.

To extremists who in recent months have been voicing loud opposition against suspension of nuclear testing and a test ban treaty, the President made a clear statement of his determination to work for both, as first steps toward general and complete disarmament.

TO THE AMERICAN LEADERS in Congress who only recently made a sorry confession that they did not know what American foreign policy was, the President recited its major objectives.

It is an answer they should have known, for it is fundamentally the same policy that guided the Eisenhower administration and the Truman administration, too.

In re-examining American policies on the Soviet Union and the cold war, the President gave two main objectives:

"... persevere in the search for peace in the hope that constructive changes within the Communist bloc might bring within reach solutions which now seem beyond us.

"... convince the Soviet Union that she, too, should let each nation choose its own future, so long as that choice does not interfere with the choice of others."

THE PRESIDENTS OPPONENTS are sure to rail against both of these approaches as appeasement or surrender. But the President did make clear his insistence on American security: "We can seek a relaxation of tensions without relaxing our guard." . . . the United States will make no deal with the Soviet Union at the expense of other nations and other peoples.

The President's announcement of a unilateral suspension of atmospheric nuclear testing is not the first such offer. President Eisenhower made a similar announcement in 1958 for the general moratorium on testing, which the Russians broke.

American risks in suspending tests now are considered much less than they were five years ago. Detection techniques have been greatly improved and there is little chance that the Russians might try to resume secret testing in the hope that they could get away with it.

Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman will head the United States mission to Moscow for test ban talks with the British and Russians in mid-July.

This may throw the United Nations disarmament talks at Geneva into recess. These negotiations have been going on since last January, with little evidence of progress.

But out of these talks has come agreement between the United States and Russia for establishment of the "hot line" between Washington and Moscow.

This is considered an important development to increase communications between the two capitals. The aim is to avoid delays, misunderstanding and misreadings of each country's intentions in time of crisis.

THESE ARE CONSIDERED first, faltering steps toward disarmament and peace. It is recognized that progress in resolving differences will be made slowly, step-by-step.

Realistically, says the President, "if we cannot now end our differences, at least we can help make the world safe for diversity." Which is to say for democracy, too.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

What is a newspaper? . . .

A newspaper is lumber made malleable. It is ink made into words and pictures. It is conceived, born, grows up and dies of old age in a day. Yesterday's newspaper is used to wrap today's fish. Or to start a log fire, which brings it back to its origin.

Most of all, a newspaper is current information. It is the bridge between a home and the rest of the world. It tells of people and events swiftly and in detail. It listens to the threats of a dictator, the crack of a bat against a baseball, the anguish of a lost child, and the recipe for making cookies.

Newspapers, like people, come in many sizes and many personalities. Some are fat and sedentary; others are lean and hysterical. And, like people, some are reliable and some are not. There are newspapers which scream for attention and there are others, on the same newsstand which whisper the news. All newspapers reflect the character of their owners.

A good newspaper must show a profit. All newspaper owners know this. That is why they establish good character in their papers and maintain it. The other road, they know, leads to bankruptcy.

Character is an indefinable quality best understood by women. They live by it. They can detect it in merchandise, in people, in publications. They, more than their husbands, understand the newspaper they buy. Men usually read the front page news, the sports section, and their favorite features. Women leaf through a newspaper slowly, carefully, concentrating more on local news than international, assessing the advertisements, relishing the woman's page with its club meetings, lawn parties and gossip, and reading the obituary notices. Good character in a newspaper is not enough. It must be enterprising and have strong civic purpose. It must sincerely feel that the community it serves is on its way to becoming the best in the world. It must use its editorial page not so much to condemn as to propose, not so much to revile powerful enemies as to have the strength to support them if they are worthy of support.

The average newspaper contains 150,000 words or more of information. This is the daily equivalent of two novels. It is never perfect, never completely accurate. It is as near perfect as a chain of human minds—leading from editor to city desk to reporter to rewrite man to copy desk to composing room—can make it.

One word can make an enormous difference. If a reporter writes: "The mayor is not the worst in our city's history" and someone along the line the word "not" is eliminated, what was intended as apology becomes indictment. Only a frightened editor uses his newspaper to destroy.

A good newspaper maintains a balance of 60 per cent news to 40 per cent advertising. When wages go up, and the price of newsprint is hiked, the ratios slip closer together. Sometimes, in a poorly managed newspaper, the ratios pass each other going in opposite directions.

In large cities, readers do not always favor the best newspaper. If they did, only one would sell. Readers seek their own information level: some like it cold and desiccated; others prefer liveli-

Time on Air for President But Not for the Opposition

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Broadcasting companies are supposed to make available "equal time" for discussion of public issues by both sides. Yet the President of the United States is permitted to use virtually all television networks and radio stations for a public speech, while a spokesman of the opposition is given no opportunity to present his side of a controversy to the same audience immediately afterwards on the same evening.

President Kennedy addressed the nation on Tuesday night on the subject of widespread disturbances over racial questions. The same broadcasting facilities which were furnished to the President, at the request of the White House, were not given to a spokesman of the opposition viewpoint in Congress for his side of the controversy.

The country is fortunate, of course, in having newspapers available in which comments and rebuttal can be printed. Four newspapers in big cities in the North which this correspondent saw on Thursday did have brief reports to tell the public that Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and an outstanding leader of the Democratic party in the South, had read to 18 assembled Senators a statement which they had approved. But none of these papers printed any extensive extracts from the text of the statement issued by Sen. Russell, though three had printed the full text of the President's speech.

Mr. Russell announced his opposition to the President's "civil rights" program, but more important than this was his charge that the President has, in a sense, encouraged street demonstration instead of repressing them. What Sen. Russell said is still news to many readers. He declared:

"The President's speech appealed eloquently to the emotions but completely disregarded reason, human experience and true equality under the Constitution.

"The fact that every citizen has the same right to own and operate a swimming pool or dining hall constitutes equality. The use of Federal power to force the owner of a dining hall or swimming pool to unwillingly accept those of a different race as guests creates a new and special right for Negroes in derogation of the property rights of all of our people to own and control the fruits of their labor and ingenuity.

"The outstanding distinction between a government of free men and a socialist or communist state is the fact that free men can own and control property, whereas statism denies property rights . . .

"Our American system has always rejected the idea that one group of citizens may deprive another of legal rights in property by process of agitation, demonstration, intimidation, law defiance and civil disobedience . . .

"The highest office of the land should symbolize respect for law, whether it be legally enacted ordinances of the meanest hamlet in the land or the written word of our national charter—the Constitution.

"I was, therefore, shocked to hear the President justify, if not encourage, the present wave of mass demonstrations, accompanied by the practices of sitting or lying in public streets and blocking traffic; forming human walls before the doors of legal businesses and assaulting with deadly weapons officers of the law whose only offense was undertaking to maintain order and protect private property.

"The South has its short-comings as well as other areas. But a calculated campaign by the metropolitan press, television and radio has magnified the unfortunate occurrences in the South while crimes of violence in other areas have been minimized. This has generated bitterness and hatred against the white people of the Southern states almost amounting to a national disease. It is also encouraging a condition bordering on anarchy in many communities. These terrible conditions are sure to further deteriorate with increasing disorder unless the President of the United States desists from using threats of mass violence to rush his social-equality legislation through the Congress . . .

"The President of the United States has a higher call to leadership than to use threats of mass violence and disregard of reasonable local laws as a means of securing action in the courts and Congress, however desirable he may regard it to be . . .

"The President and the Attorney General now say that they will predicate this new thrust for race mixing on the already tortured commerce clause of the Constitution. If the commerce clause will sustain an act to compel the white owner of a dining hall to accept a Negro against his wishes, it can be used to sustain the validity of legislation that will compel his admittance into the living room or bedroom of any citizen.

"I believe in equality before the law for every American. In equal measure, I reject the idea that Federal power may be invoked to compel the mingling of the races in social activities to achieve the nebulous aim of social equality.

"Every Negro citizen possesses every legal right that is possessed by any white citizen, but there is nothing in either the Constitution or Judeo-Christian principles or common sense and reason which would compel one citizen to share his rights with one of another race at the same place and at the same time. Such compulsion would amount to a complete denial of the inalienable rights of the individual to choose or select his associates . . .

"The President's legislative proposals are clearly destructive of the American system and the Constitutional rights of American citizens. I shall oppose them with every means and resource at my command. I do not believe a majority of the Congress will be frightened by thinly veiled threats of violence."

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A payment of $65,000 will be withheld from a Connecticut contractor for failure to meet concrete-depth specifications on a section of the Route 17 Expressway near Binghamton, the State Department of Public Works says.

The department said Thursday the contractor failed to meet the specifications on a center portion of about 3,200 feet of a two-lane pavement between Damascus and McClure.

The contractor, Savin Brothers Inc. of Bloomfield, Conn., laid a depth of 8 1/4 inches for the section's pavement.

Phoenicia

Naturalist Art Is on Display At Library Here

PHOENICIA — Valerie and John Swenson of Shandaken will be the first professional artists to exhibit their work at the Phoenicia Library. This one-team show of etchings and hand screened prints will be open to the public during library hours from June 15 to July 18.

Miss Swenson and her brother, John, have lived in a simple white farm house in Broadstreet Hollow since 1936. The picture, "My Mountain Home" was painted by Miss Swenson in 1946. Here these artists collaborate in their studio-workshop; Valerie to paint and create the charming designs inspired by all of nature's wonders and John to reproduce them with the fine technique of the consummate craftsman. The simplicity of this art workshop of painting and fine art prints is touched with the sublime.

Both Swensons are naturalists as well as artists. Both are members of the John Burroughs Society. They are also active members of the Woodstock Guild of Artists and Craftsman of which Mr. Swenson is a former director.

They have produced many volumes of nature books for children, some completely hand made.

Lorenz Installed As Legion Leader

Richard Lorenz was installed as commander of American Legion Post 950, Phoenicia Tuesday night at the legion hall. Dr. Fred H. Voss was installing officer. Others installed for 1963-64 terms were J. H. Edwin Anderson, first vice commander; Leonard Byer, second vice commander; George Sebald, adjutant; Oscar Hanel, treasurer; Earl Bennett, chaplain; Benjamin Roese, service officer; Dr. Voss, historian and Alfred Hofmann, sergeant-at-arms. The auxiliary joined the legion following the ceremonies for refreshments and social hour.

Area Social Notes

Herbert Shultis Jr., William Jansen and Walter Smith attended the meeting of F&AM, Mt. Tabor Lodge in Hunter Monday evening. Fifty-year pins were presented as well as pins to past masters. A strawberry festival followed the meeting.

Birthdays this month include Mrs. William Malloy, June 16 and Miss Mary VanSteenbergh, June 17.

The staff of the Onteora Central School Cafeteria had Mrs. Lester Barringer as their guest at dinner at Kass's Inn Monday evening.

The Night Owls bowling team had dinner at Kurta's, West Hurley, Thursday evening. About 36 members and friends attended.

Immunization Clinic

A clinic for immunizations against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus and smallpox will be conducted by the Ulster County Health Department at the Tumor Clinic Building, 400 Broadway, Friday, June 21, from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon. Immunizations for whooping cough, diphtheria, and tetanus should be started at three months of age; smallpox vaccination should be given sometime during the first year of life; and polio immunizations should be started from three to six months of age. These clinics serve those who are referred by their physician or those who are otherwise unable to secure these immunizations.

To School on Horseback

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — New York has a reputation as being one of the nation's most progressive states in the field of public education, but 44 pupils still ride to school on horseback, State Education Department says.

The students live in remote areas, on narrow, crudely-fashioned roads where it is impossible to drive a school bus the department says.

But the percentage of pupils transported by horses is small. The department says 905,862 children, exclusive of New York City, were transported to New York State schools last year.

The post office at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair is expected to process an estimated 200,000 pieces of mail daily. It will offer twice a day delivery seven days a week for thousands of exhibitors.

Cancer Fighters Hopeful Of Gains in Leukemia War

By FRANK E. CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—New and dramatic advances have been made in the last two years against acute leukemia.

That's the presently incurable blood-cancer disease that recently killed Ernie Davis, the great Negro football player of Syracuse University and the Cleveland Browns.

Government cancer fighters say there are grounds for hope that additional major gains will be achieved in the years ahead in prolonging the life of victims of this strange malady, which occurs in various forms in both children and adults.

Lesser gains are being made against chronic leukemia — the kind that recently killed Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., 69, who was chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Three new drugs have been developed since 1961 against acute leukemia—two of them in the past year. This brings to six the number of drug weapons against the malady.

16,000 New Cases Occur

Leukemia kills about 14,000 people annually, and adds some 16,000 new cases every year to the approximately 800,000 Americans suffering from all forms of cancer at any given time.

Leukemia, for reasons unknown, has been on the increase in the last few decades.

Even with the new drugs, life-prolongation in acute leukemia still averages less than two years. But there have been notable exceptions of victims surviving up to 13 years after the initial diagnosis. Drug benefits are limited largely to children.

Fifteen years ago, victims of acute leukemia almost invariably died within three or four months after the initial diagnosis. Some died within a few days.

Chronic leukemia, while also ultimately fatal, is much slower to kill. The average survival is three to five years, but a few victims may live 10 years or longer. Notable cases have survived almost 40 years.

New Drugs Found

One of the three new drugs, called Vincristine, is an extract of the periwinkle plant, a form of myrtle. Another, called Methy

Gag for short, is an entirely new type of compound among some two dozen chemicals, out of literally thousands tested so far, which have been found useful against various types of cancer. The third new one, called Cyclophosphamide, is a new member of a class of compounds called nitrogen mustards, the first of which originally was used as a poison gas in World War I. Researchers and grantees of the National Cancer Institute see promising possibilities in "team" application of the drugs—what is, using varied combinations against the foe, which inexorably develops resistance to a given individual drug.

Researchers have developed two new "supportive" treatments which show promise of forestalling death in other ways—thus giving additional time to allow the drugs to produce their maximum punch.

Republican Heads Propose Plan on Studying Budget

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Legislature's Republican leaders set up new machinery today to take a closer, more critical look at New York state's budgets.

The program excludes Democratic members of the Legislature from participating in the study — a move certain to set off protests from the minority.

Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlini and Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney devised the budget-study plan in response to demands from rank-and-file GOP members who rebelled against Gov. Rockefeller's fiscal program during the 1963 legislative session.

To Explore Spending The so-called "budget rebels" scuttled Rockefeller's plan to reduce motorcycle registration charges and chopped $75 million from his original $2.9-billion budget for fiscal 1963-64. They also extracted from Mahoney and Carlini promises of a year-round budget review.

Under the Mahoney-Carlini plan, five subcommittees composed of members of the Legislature's fiscal committees will be set up initially. They will look into spending in the fields of welfare, health, mental hygiene, education and public works — the areas that consume most state funds.

Each committee will consist of two senators and two assemblymen, aided by technical staff members, who will work with them through the year.

Appointments Next Week Appointments to the committees will be announced next week. Additional subcommittees will be organized later.

Mahoney and Carlini, in their joint statement, said the subcommittees' reports would be made available to both majority and minority members.

Mahoney and Carlini sought in their statement to dispel any impression that they intended to intrude on the budget-making prerogatives of the executive branch of the state government.

They said the subcommittees' efforts "will be concentrated upon analysis of larger items of expenditures in new and old programs and activities of state government."

Injured in Mishap

David Navy, 70, of 112 Roosevelt Avenue, suffered injuries to the right hand and shoulder in a car-pedestrian mishap Thursday afternoon at Albany and Roosevelt Avenues. He was treated by a doctor. A police report said he apparently got caught between lanes of traffic while crossing the street and in "attempting to protect himself" made contact with the car of Augustine Konen, 44, of RD 3, Box 110-1B, Kingston. The mishap was reported at 4:50 p. m.

7-Man Planning

set up and was ready for immediate use, as the system wells were not keeping up with current usage. Harry Newton, water superintendent, was welcomed back on the job after a recent operation. Supervisor Roger Mabie announced that the public sale of bonds in amount of $300,000 for the water district would be held at the Town Hall, Port Ewen, at 2 p. m., Wednesday afternoon, June 19. The proceeds of the bond sale are to be used to pay the expenses of installation of the new water treatment plant to be built on the Hudson River south of Port Ewen. Work on the first phase of the project, the water intake, is scheduled to commence on Monday.

Discuss Clearing Bar

Correspondence with William E. Cleary, executive vice president of the New York Town Boat Exchange, was read concerning a possible course of action the town might take in its efforts to clean up the town's Rondout Creek and Hudson River waterfronts. The Town Board is desirous of controlling, and if possible removing, the old barge hulks that litter the town shore lines. Cleary advised the board of a waterfront survey cleanup committee that has recently been formed in Congress and of a list of things that can be done by local municipalities on the problem, recently compiled by the Port of New York Authority's staff.

The board authorized the installation of a street light at the former Union Center School property, Union Center Road. The former school building is now used as a community purposes and a fire truck will shortly be located at the site by St. Remy Fire Department. The board also decided to hold a meeting in the near future with the St. Remy fire commissioners to discuss the possible erection of building to house the fire truck.

The closing of Main Street, Port Ewen, between Broadway and Green Streets for a block party on the evening of July 10 was authorized on a request from Port Ewen Methodist Church.

A request for the installation of a stop sign at the intersection of Main and Bayard Streets, Port Ewen, was deferred until the Town Board can inspect the intersection. The board plans to take action on this and previous similar requests at other locations in the near future.

DeVall H. Dunbar, building inspector, reported that 15 permits were issued during May with a total valuation of $100,225. The permits covered seven new houses, one residential garage, one work shop, and six additions or alterations to houses.

An average of 114,000 veterans daily receive hospital care from the Veterans Administration.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobacco resumed their recovery while sugars were easy in an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Most of the top auto stocks took small losses. Steels were narrowly mixed.

Trading interest seemed focused on an aggregation of lower or medium-priced issues which were very active and were apparently moving in response to special recommendations.

Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed with rails higher. Most U.S. government bonds were unchanged.

Quotations by Wood, Walker & Company, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 63 Wall Street, New York City, branch office, 52 Main Street, Matthew F. Hasbrouck Jr., manager.

Challenges Realtors

WASHINGTON (AP)—A White House aide challenged today a statement by realtors which he interpreted as disclaiming any responsibility to help provide equal housing opportunity for Negroes.

David L. Lawrence, chairman of the President's Committee for Equal Opportunity in Housing, said: "Property rights and human rights are not contradictory. Each should be respected. Since the human rights of many Americans have not been fully realized, it is the responsibility of us all, including those of the real estate business, to work energetically and positively to correct these conditions."

The convention schedule included business sessions, professional meetings, entertainment, and exhibits by manufacturers and suppliers in the nursing home field.

Highlights of the program included a two-hour workshop covering fire safety and other safety techniques for nursing homes, a session on nursing home administrative training, a program on musical therapy, and a discussion of procedures for applying for accreditation.

The New York State Nursing Home Association is a professional organization dedicated to advancing and maintaining high standards of care for the aged and chronically ill. The Association conducts programs of information and education which improve the capabilities of its members. It also works closely with other professional associations of doctors, dentists, hospital administrators, social workers, and public officials on projects concerned with the aging.

Mrs. Millonig, who holds a national music therapy license, began her own formal music study with piano lessons at the age of five. She started transferring her interest in music to others with piano pupils and her own children.

Mrs. Millonig assisted in organizing both the Kingston Musical Society and the WYCA Music Appreciation Group. She has worked for Community Concerts Association and recently with the Mid-Hudson Philharmonic Society. She is a board member of the WYCA Ulster County Mental Health Association and Home for the Aged, and is secretary of the Capitol District Nursing Home Association.

Carlini With Rocky

Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlini who prefers to change the formula has allied himself with Rockefeller and against Mahoney on the issue.

At this stage, at least four Senate seats are regarded as definitely risky in next year's election and another four, including Mahoney's, are considered questionable. In each instance, Democrats have been making strong and successful efforts to narrow GOP re-election margins.

The four most-doubtful seats are held by Frank Van Lare of Rochester, Richard W. Cooke of Alden, in Erie County, Lawrence M. Rulison of Syracuse and William T. Conklin, the only Republican senator from Brooklyn.

Those seats considered questionable in event of a Kennedy landslide are held by John J. Jones & Laughlin Steel, Earl W. Brydges of Niagara Falls, Fred J. Rath of Utica and Mahoney, who runs in Buffalo.

Prime Targets

In the Assembly, nine GOP seats will be prime Democratic targets. The incumbents, with their last plurality in parenthesis, are:

Robert Hatch Jr. (221) and John H. Terry (2,653), both from Onondaga County; Edward J. Amann Jr. (667), Staten Island, 1st district; Robert J. Feinberg (1,086), Clinton County; Ernest Curto (1,865), Niagara County; Alfred D. Lerner (2,073) and Anthony P. Saverese Jr. (1,478), both from Queens; Theodore D. Paul (2,300), Seneca County; and Paul J. Curran (3,492), Manhattan, 6th district.

Other But less choice—targets include: William E. Adams (5,189), Erie County; Donald A. Campbell (5,390), Montgomery County; Joseph R. Younglove (2,168), Fulton and Hamilton counties; Jerry W. Black (1,134), Schuyler County; and John E. Johnson (2,773), Genesee.

In the face of such a situation, Rockefeller nevertheless insists it would be "sheer folly" to reapportion now and, after the court acts, possibly have to do it all over again.

Others argue that, if the GOP does not act this year, it may not get another chance.

Head of Local Nursing Home Addresses Parley

Mrs. Gladys Millonig, administrator of Clinton Avenue Nursing Home, Kingston, addressed the 14th Annual Convention of the New York State Nursing Home association Wednesday at the Manger Hotel in Rochester. Her topic on musical therapy was entitled, "Music and You."

The convention schedule included business sessions, professional meetings, entertainment, and exhibits by manufacturers and suppliers in the nursing home field.

Highlights of the program included a two-hour workshop covering fire safety and other safety techniques for nursing homes, a session on nursing home administrative training, a program on musical therapy, and a discussion of procedures for applying for accreditation.

Bay Stater Held After Fast Chase In Stolen Auto

Apprehended by two state troopers in Poughkeepsie after an 85-mile-an-hour chase for a distance of 22 miles early today, Keith Allen Fillmore, 16, of 24A Second Street, Cambridge, Mass., is in the Columbia County Jail awaiting grand jury action.

Claverack state police are checking on a report that another youth, who allegedly accompanied Fillmore on a car-stealing spree from Boston to Mechanicville, surrendered to authorities in that state city yesterday.

Rhinbeck troopers received a call from Claverack early today that an automobile had been stolen in that area and the driver was heading south on Route 9. Troopers Edward Anderson and John McLean set up a roadblock at the intersection of Routes 9 and 9G.

Shortly before 2 a. m. they spotted the stolen car speeding south. The driver, later identified as Fillmore, drove through the roadblock and Troopers Anderson and McLean gave chase. They pursued the stolen vehicle at speeds ranging from 75 to 85 miles an hour through Rhinbeck, Staatsburg and East Park.

The chase ended on Route 9G at a detour when the vehicle driven by Fillmore crashed into a barricade at a Parker Avenue bridge construction in Poughkeepsie. Fillmore escaped injury, but the car was badly damaged.

The youth was turned over to Claverack state police. He was arraigned before a justice of the peace and waived preliminary examination. Fillmore was ordered held in the Columbia County jail to await grand jury action.

According to state police, Fillmore admitted stealing a 1956 car at Mechanicville Thursday night, and abandoning it in the Town of Greenport following an accident. The car he was driving when apprehended was stolen in the Claverack area, troopers said.

State police said Fillmore allegedly stole a number of cars on his way from Boston to the area where he was taken in custody.

Dedication Set Sunday at Area Assembly of God

The dedication service for the Lomontville Assembly of God will be held Sunday 3 p. m. with the Rev. Joseph R. Flower, superintendent of the New York District as speaker. He will officiate at the dedication and be the speaker at the evening service at 7:30 p. m.

The pastor, the Rev. David O. Stanton, extends a cordial invitation to the many friends of the Lomontville Assembly of God to be present for the services. It is planned that there will be a time of fellowship and renewing acquaintances with basket luncheon between the afternoon and evening services.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Krier of Sullivan County said the sheriff's department had no additional information as to when or where the alleged murder was committed.

Oneida Welfare Recipients Must Work on Farms

UTICA, N. Y. (AP) — Able-bodied men on Oneida County's relief rolls will either work on farms this summer or lose their welfare benefits, says the county welfare commissioner.

Commissioner Michael J. McGuire said Thursday that 145 men on relief rolls would be put to work, this summer picking strawberries, onions and beans.

He said the men, after physical examinations, would be ordered to report to farms when the crops are ready.

Any able-bodied man who refused to work would give the department grounds to stop welfare benefits, McGuire said, adding "and we will do it."

McGuire said he was hopeful the majority of the men would be taken off the relief rolls.

The plan, he said, will be on a trial basis this summer and eventually might eliminate the county's annual need for migrant workers.

Oneida County farms employed about 1,000 migrants from the South last summer to harvest crops for an average of $4 a day. More than 500 of them received surplus food from the county welfare department.

The commissioner said 130 of the welfare recipients would be assigned first to picking strawberries in the Utica area and the other 15 to onion fields in the Rome area. Later, he said, all will pick beans.

Farmers will keep time and production records on the men, McGuire said.

He said it was possible some of the men would continue to receive some welfare aid but that "this will be determined on the basis of need."

The plan was worked out by the Welfare Department, the State Employment Service and contractors representing the farmers.

The greatest advantage of the four-four trump fit is that you can usually afford to ruff in either hand without hurting yourself. Then, if your trumps are solid you will wind up with five trump tricks instead of four. Similarly, if you ruff twice in one hand you have added two tricks to your potential.

South might have tried to get to seven after his partner jumped to four spades, but South reasoned that while he had first round control of every suit he only held 16 high card points and that North had been willing to settle for game. On the other hand, six looked like a good gamble and South wasted no time bidding the small slam. It all happened at the Southeastern championships in Miami.

South made his slam as easily as he had bid it. He won the diamond opening in dummy, drew trumps with three leads, lead a low heart from dummy and ruffed it, led a club to dummy's king, discarded a diamond on dummy's last trump and led out the club suit. The defense made a diamond trick at the end.

The game was duplicate and South might just as well have made an overtrick. All he had to do was to remember that two ruffs in his own hand would give him six trump tricks. He should ruff a heart at trick two, lead a trump to dummy, ruff another heart and then run out dummy's trumps. This would allow him to discard two diamonds instead of one and give him all 13 tricks.

BABSON on BUSINESS

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 14—Last week I wrote about owning forest lands or pasture lands. This would be in terms of at least 100 acres, and presumably not less than 250 acres.

Rules for Buying a Subdivision

I like to have my readers buy real estate in general, such as house lots, and to buy it near the city in which this article appears. Certainly one should not buy house lots in some distant state, or in fact anywhere, without seeing the property. I am a great believer in Florida land. But I hate to see people buy house lots in Florida from maps which they are looking at hundreds of miles away. When I am asked what is the best fertilizer for an orange grove, I reply, "The footprints of the owner." This applies also to house lots, especially in subdivisions of some northern city. Now let me give some simple rules regarding the purchase of such house lots. They are based on careful experience and apply whether you are speculating or buying for the purpose of settling on the land and some day bringing up a family.

Every city has its best growth in some one direction—whether to the north, west, east, or south. Often the direction is toward the land highest in elevation. This is especially true if it is to the west facing the sunsets.

Remember, too, that subdivisions which are near tenement districts or railroad tracks may not be as attractive as others. Personally, I made a mistake in buying land in Wellesley fifteen miles from Boston under the direct route of the airplanes leaving Boston for New York and elsewhere. I made this mistake many years ago, but those looking for subdivisions now should take this problem into consideration.

What About Houses?

I do not like houses as an investment unless they are duplex houses, where I can live in one half and rent the other half. As an investment I like something that does not need to be shingled or painted, and that does not have windows that break. Even a new house depreciates from the very day it is completed; but the land, if in a proper neighborhood, gradually increases in value. This is the reason for buying an extra lot adjoining the one on which you will live. Also buy the lot to the rear of your house.

When buying houses or land, recognize that all land and all houses are worth something, but the price should be considered according to the above suggestions. It will always be possible to build and buy new houses. The price will depend upon supply and demand, just as does the price of mortgages. There will sometimes be a shortage of houses, and often a surplus of houses. There, however, will never be any more land on this globe. This is something to remember when you read articles on the coming "population explosion."

Importance of Water

The availability of fresh water is something to consider when buying house lots. The talk in the papers today regarding the "pollution" of water is very sound. This refers to the pollution of streams not only by waste from industrial companies, but also from the detergents which our womenfolk use every day and from the deadly chemical pesticides which are being sprayed in such profusion throughout the nation. This latter is the subject of a very popular book entitled "Silent Spring" by Rachel Carson. This book should be read especially by those who are thinking of buying land near a stream. Despite this, land adjoining good rivers should always be in demand—for homes, farming and speculation.

I was born and brought up in Gloucester, Mass., by the seashore, where the waves from the Atlantic Ocean dash up twice a day. This picture applies to the whole length of both our Atlantic and Pacific seaboard. There never will be any more of it; hence, if possible, it is well to own some land as an investment on one or the other of these seacoasts. Let me close by emphasizing the importance of diversification. Do not put all your money in any one thing—real estate, stocks, bonds or bank accounts—and be especially cautious about investing in deteriorating houses.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Champagne is under from 30 to 45 pounds pressure per square inch. A Wine Institute spokesman cautioned that a bottle being opened should not be pointed at anyone.

Will Hear Arguments To Free Man of Murder

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — An Albany County court judge will hear arguments June 26 to free Carl DeFlumer, 31, who was convicted of murder 16 years ago in the strangulation of an 8-year-old boy.

DeFlumer, who was 15 when he was convicted, is serving a sentence of 20 years to life in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora for the death of Kenneth Wahrman of Albany.

Judge Martin Schenk will hear the case which was reopened on the ground of a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision that stipulated a youth can not be measured by standards of adult responsibility.

DeFlumer, of Albany, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of second-degree murder.

Police said he admitted tying up the boy and strapping him to a tree.

FORMER LUXURY SCHOONER?—Christened the Virginia in 1865, the builder never realized his luxury schooner would become the oldest known fishing vessel in the U.S. fishing fleet. Today her owners in Tampa, Fla., proclaim her "strong as the Rock of Gibraltar," and for a vessel that makes 20 fishing trips a year into the Gulf of Mexico that's quite an accolade.

Big Question: Will New Pope Follow John's Liberal Plan?

By JAMES M. LONG
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The next Pope almost certainly will be an Italian, probably will not be a member of the entrenched Curia, and likely will be between 63 and 73 years old.

But whether he will be one of the so-called progressives following the road opened by Pope John XXIII, or one of the conservatives who oppose such a course will be the big question before the conclave of cardinals opening here next Wednesday. He might be a moderate belonging to neither group.

The main guess are these:

The most likely choices are Giovanni Cardinal Urbani, who succeeded Pope John as patriarch of Venice, and Giacomo Cardinal Lecaro, archbishop of Bologna. Urbani is 63, youngest of the favorites. Lecaro is 71. Both are progressives but neither is regarded as among the more militant of the liberals.

Widely considered to follow as possible choices are Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, and Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, archbishop of Milan.

Confalonieri, 69, a moderate between the progressive and conservative groups, might be chosen for just that reason, in compromise. But he is a member of the Curia, and Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, who became Pope Pius XII, was the only Curia cardinal elevated to the papacy after 1831.

Montini, 65, is a progressive, a former Vatican pro-secretary of state, and a man who even at the last conclave, when he was not yet a cardinal, was regarded as a strong possibility for the papacy.

Next three most prominently mentioned are Paolo Cardinal Marella, Alfonso Cardinal Castaldo and Francesco Cardinal Roberti. Marella, 68, is archbishop of St. Peter's Basilica and, like Confalonieri, a moderate. Castaldo, 72, archbishop of Naples, and Roberti, 73, a legal expert of the Curia, both lean slightly to the conservative side.

The election of a non-Italian is regarded as highly unlikely. The last non-Italian Pope was the Dutch Adrian VI, elected in 1522. No American cardinal is regarded as having a chance.

Accord

ACCORD — Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gazlay attended the Red Cross banquet at the Governor Clinton Hotel of Kingston last Tuesday evening with 65 present.

Members of the Accord Home Extension Service were among the units of Ulster County who witnessed the showing of colored slides of Scotland Thursday morning by James McFadden with the commentary by Mrs. McFadden of New Jersey as part of Mohonk Day. The McFaddens had made the trip as representatives of World Gardening Clubs. The afternoon was devoted to a tour of the grounds with Mrs. Smiley as guide. The Accord group will have a dinner Wednesday, June 19 at 6:30 p. m. at Williams Lake Hotel. All reservations are to be in not later than Monday, June 17. All interested may call Mrs. Millard Davis.

Predicts 9 PC Boost in Valley Housing Units

SAM HANKIN

A prediction that 2,050 housing units would be built in the three Mid-Hudson Valley counties of Dutchess, Orange and Ulster, in 1963 was made today by Sam Hankin, president of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley. The prediction was based on a recent survey made by Hankin among the builders comprising the Home Builders Association membership.

It is planned to repeat this survey on a quarterly basis and to make a quarterly report of the status of home construction in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

Hankin predicted an increase of approximately 9 per cent in the general level of home construction for 1963 over 1962. The forecast for 1963 also calls for a continued increase in apartment units, with apartments comprising approximately 10 per cent of the total housing units to be built. The greatest volume of home building for 1963 will take place in Dutchess County. Dutchess County has been the leader in this respect for the past several years.

On a county basis, Hankin predicted a total of 1,045 housing units to be built during 1963 in Dutchess County, 570 to be built in Ulster County and 435 housing units in Orange County. The total of 2,050 housing units compares with figure of 1,880 for 1962.

His survey predicted that of the total of 2,050 housing units, approximately 200 of these units would be apartments.

The survey forecast that 155 of the apartment units would be built in Dutchess County, 25 in Orange County and 20 units in Ulster County.

The Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley is made up of home builders from Dutchess, Orange, Ulster and Sullivan Counties. Bankers, realtors and building supply dealers from the Mid-Hudson Valley also belong to the association as associate members.

James Church, Kingston, conducted the morning services in connection with dedication ceremonies at the Methodist Church in the new village of Ashokan and the Rev. Hough Houston officiated in afternoon and evening, giving a history of the Shokan and Olive Branch Churches up to the time of consolidation and forming of the new church. The eleven former pastors were invited to be present at the dedication. Building committee for the new house of worship were Augustus Green, Benjamin Van Stenberg, George Whittle, James A. Guttridge, Cyrus Cudney and Audlen Van Benchoen.

More than 7,000 medical research projects in all fields of medicine are being conducted by the Veterans Administration.

Water Assured For New School At Schaller Site

Saugerties Central Schools Board at its meeting this week discussed a variety of subjects, but centered its interest on buildings and grounds.

President Robert Herb reported on a meeting with village authorities concerning water and sewer questions, and the Board voted that in consideration of the Village of Saugerties making water available to the proposed elementary school site on the Schaller property, the Board would grant an easement allowing the village to run storm sewer lines across the high school site to the Sawkill creek.

Study Old Schools Fate

A discussion, tabled from a previous meeting, concerning the disposition of closed school buildings at Saxton, Cedar Grove, and Katsbaan, was referred to the Buildings and Grounds Committee for further study, and will be reconsidered at the next regular meeting of the Board.

Considerable discussion ensued regarding the use of the athletic field surrounding the high school property by unauthorized parties. Members expressed their desire to see school property used for the benefit of the public, yet were aware that regulations for the use of the property are necessary to prevent safety hazards. The Board currently has regulations designed to restrict persons without permit. Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds David Hildebrandt reported that cans and bottles left in the grass by unauthorized visitors create problems in mowing, and fragments spread about the area by the mower could result in serious injury to pupils and persons authorized to use the field. The violations have been reported to the police. The Buildings and Grounds Committee, headed by Henry Breitenbach, will study the problem.

It was emphasized that persons and organizations wishing to use the property outside of school hours may apply at the Administration Building for permits.

Has Use of Road

Attorney Morris Rosenblum reported that there is no question concerning access to the Schaller site for the proposed new elementary school.

Recent newspaper reports of the Town Board meeting indicate that the road has been abandoned by the town. Attorney Rosenblum stated that he was giving further study to the matter, but that the Board should have no concern regarding the use of the Nigger Road. Following this discussion, the Board voted to build the proposed elementary school on the Schaller site, if the bond issue vote on June 26 is favorable.

Eastern Standard Supply Company of New York City was a bidder on office equipment at a price of $1374. The bread contract for next year was awarded to Duvernay-Westchester Corporation of White Plains. This contract is the result of a plan for cooperative buying by the school districts of Saugerties, Kingston, Highland, New Paltz, Ontonagon, Rondout Valley, Wallkill and State University College, New Paltz.

Superintendent of Schools Dexter O. Arnold reported that as a result of a recent meeting in Kingston with superintendents of schools, board members, and principals from Ulster, Greene and Sullivan counties, a policy committee had been formed to study the desirability of a manpower survey within the area.

The major purpose of the survey would be to determine the manpower needs of business and industry in the area and to determine the kinds of manpower available. He reported that the survey would be concerned with youth in school, youth out of school, drop-outs, employed adults, and unemployed adults.

Attended Lectures

The superintendent reported that Richard Smith, James Young and Lloyd Loop, instructors in the high school, had attended lectures at the National Security Seminar held in Kingston in May, and that the following had successfully completed the New York State regional program in science for elementary school teachers: Mary Bott, Paul Brazier, Virginia Brown, Dean Bullock, Evelina Fuller, Walter Karch, Margaret Kerin, Marjorie King, Richard Luther, Marion Miller, John Oakley, Neal Silvernail, Elizabeth Swart, Lillian Sweeney, Ruth Teetsell, Leola Wilt and Alvida Wroisen.

A course in mathematics, which will provide teachers of intermediate grades with the latest information on the teaching of modern math, will be taught during the next school year by Thomas Zulkoff of the high school faculty.

Dr. Arnold reported the resignation of Mrs. Barbara Allen as homemaker teacher at the high school, and the Board approved the following teachers for the 1963-64 school year: Mrs. Carol Schmidt, of White Plains and a graduate of Pratt Institute, will teach art in Mt. Marion and Glasco Schools; Miss Ruth Ann Duryee, of Kingston, who holds a bachelor's degree from Ithaca and a master's degree from New Paltz, will teach sixth grade at Main Street; Miss Jean Khachadourian of Menands and a graduate of Russell Sage College, will teach kindergarten at Main Street School; Robert Varrell, of Rye, N. H., and a graduate of New England College, will teach world history in the high school.

A new physical education position in the elementary grades will be filled by Miss Lucille Zalesky of Northampton, Mass., a graduate of the University of Massachusetts. Mrs. Nancy Sargent, of Red Hook and a graduate of Brothers College and Columbia University, will teach French and Spanish at the high school. Mrs. Sargent has had graduate work at the University of Chile and the University of Madrid, as well as at State University College, Albany.

Named Acting Director

Fred Seither, physical education teacher and varsity wrestling and football coach, was appointed acting director of physical education for the 1963-64.

Seither, who holds a BS degree and an MS degree in physical education from Ithaca College, is the only person, other than William Straub, who is certified by the state as a director of physical education. Straub has been granted a year's leave of absence to pursue doctoral studies at the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. Arnold reported that 26 vacancies have occurred in the teaching staff for 1963-64, in addition to 12 new positions authorized by the Board of Education. Analysis of reasons for leaving the Saugerties system indicate that nine members of the faculty have left for family reasons such as changes of residence or pressure of family responsibilities; seven are seeking or have accepted new positions; four have been granted maternity leaves; two have left for further study; one has left for a position in industry; one for military service, and one has retired.

Positions are still open in the areas of high school and junior high school English, music, art, junior and senior high school mathematics, home economics, and assistant librarian.

In the elementary grades, the superintendent is seeking teachers for kindergarten, first grade, second grade and third grade. Dr. Arnold stated that a number of candidates were not interested in teaching split sessions or in bringing their children to a community where it would be necessary for them to attend school on split sessions.

Rumble Reports Are Exaggerated

Reports of teenage rumbles in various parts of the Village and Town of Saugerties are greatly exaggerated according to appraisals made by law enforcement officers, following the incidents.

Complaints of rumbles came early Thursday from residents near Cantine Memorial Field, Malden and West Camp where it was reported moderate gatherings of local high school seniors and juniors were celebrating moving up day.

Special Saugerties Town Police Officer John Pavlak said the gatherings were not orderly, but they were also not rumbles. Mostly local graduates and some juniors were involved, Pavlak said.

An outbreak of rowdiness in each of the groups caused only slight damage, law enforcement officers reported.

Acting Sgt. Donald Sullivan of the village police said several eggs were thrown against the home of Patrick Rodden of Simmons Street. Rodden, a member of Saugerties High School faculty, is advisor to the senior class.

Pavlak reported some students tied a rope across Asbury Road near the old school. Trunka's Picnic Grove sign was hung on the rope.

At West Camp, it was reported that eggs were tossed out on Route 9W. There were some reports that the eggs were thrown at moving cars, however this could not be confirmed and was categorically denied by some of the students questioned.

At Malden there were reported incidents of bottle smashing by one of the group.

In one of the incidents, the

KOOM UN BRING DEI FREIND MIT!—That invitation, in a German dialect, is sincere and hospitable. Literally, it means "Come and bring your friends along," and the bid is issued by the hundreds of persons staging the 14th annual Pennsylvania Dutch Folk Festival at Kutztown, Pa., June 29 through July 6. At left, workers hoist the body on a windlass preparatory to altering a wagon for use in haying the way it was done during the 18th century. Sunbonneted farm women, right, demonstrate turning out soap used on the farm. One stirs the soap mixture—lye and fats mainly—in a huge cauldron while the other cuts solidified bars into cubes. These are but two demonstrations of Dutch life—past and present—which will be staged during the festival.

gathering became overexuberant and one of the girls in the group was slightly injured.

One law enforcement officer said "the kids were just blowing off some steam, and one or two in every group cause the damage."

Two Are Chosen For International Youth Day Event

Miss Susan Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Mills, 8 Spaulding Lane, Saugerties, and Stephen Perks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Perks, 12 Robinson Street, Saugerties have been selected to represent Saugerties High School at the ninth annual Dutchess County International Youth Day on August 11.

The International Youth Day is a special program in connection with the operation of Camp Rising Sun, International Scholarship Camp at Rhinebeck. The camp is attended by about 35 selected American boys from various parts of United States and boys from about 15 foreign countries.

For the International Youth Day Program, outstanding 11th grade students of the area will join the camp members for a tour of the camp, swimming, lunch, group singing, a discussion meeting and an opportunity to meet and talk with the foreign boys.

Susan has been active in choir, debating, clubs and yearbook work, and has been selected as editor-in-chief of The Sawyer for 1964. Stephen has been active in clubs and athletics at Saugerties High School.

2 Will Face Court On Traffic Counts

Two Saugerties residents must answer summonses at 7 o'clock tonight in special sessions before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr.

Thomas Miller, 22, of West Saugerties is charged with improper use of the village streets. The summons was issued early today by Patrolman Harry Vickery.

Bruce Mundy, 19, of Birchwood Drive, Barclay Heights is charged with having an insufficient muffler on his vehicle. He was cited Thursday night by Acting Police Sgt. Donald Sullivan.

Buffalo Sector Construction Jobs Resumed Today

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Work resumed today on more than 50 construction projects here and in Niagara Falls following contract settlements by two more building-trades unions.

At one point, less than two weeks ago, 16 unions were on strike simultaneously, idling about 14,000 workers in Buffalo, Niagara Falls and the Binghamton area. Projects valued at $80 million were halted.

Five unions remained on strike today. Thursday night, a plumbers' local, representing 620 workers here voted 86-82 to approve a new three-year contract previously agreed on by union and employer bargainers. The contract provides for a 55-cent hourly pay boost over the three years.

The plumbers returned to work today. In Niagara Falls, laborers agreed on a new one-year contract calling for an immediate 7 1/2-cent wage boost, plus an additional five cents an hour Dec. 1. Improvements in shop steward, contracting and working conditions clauses also were included.

Besides the plumbers, 11 other unions, representing about 12,000 workers, struck in Buffalo May 30 after their contracts expired. Only the asbestos workers and painters remain on strike, with about 10 projects halted because of picketing by asbestos workers.

Still striking carpenters and bricklayers walked out in Niagara Falls June 4, along with the laborers. About 375 laborers in the Binghamton area also have been on strike since June 4.

Two Methodists Lauded for Stand On Negroes

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y. (AP)—Two Jackson, Miss., Methodist ministers today had the praise of the Central New York Methodist Conference for objecting to the barring of five Negroes at their church Sunday.

The conference commended Rev. W. B. Selah and his assistant, Rev. Jerry Furr, in a resolution approved Thursday.

The ministers said Sunday they should seek new assignments, rather than permit segregation at the Galloway Memorial Church.

The conference's four-day gathering ends Saturday. Approximately 500 delegates are attending.

Held for School Incident

Five Dutchess County young men were arrested Thursday night by Town of Poughkeepsie police in connection with an investigation of an incident on the property of the Violet Avenue School, Town of Hyde Park. Town Police Chief Vincent Smith told The Freeman that police received a complaint that five cars loaded with young men were heading for the school property "for a fight." Chief Smith said the five youths were the instigators of the incident. They were identified as Louis A. Near Jr., 19, of 9 Dutcher Place; Richard Slaymaker, 19, of 383 Main Street; John W. Kane, 20, of 20 Roscoe Street, all of Poughkeepsie; Cornelius P. Barron, 18, of 6 Peter Stuyvesant Drive, Town of Poughkeepsie; and Carlos E. Buntantante, 25, of Rhinecliff. All five pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice of the Peace George C. Dietz, Town of Poughkeepsie. Buntantante paid his $25 fine. In lieu of payment of fines, the four others were committed to jail.

Probe Battery Theft

Theft of a battery from an automobile and an act of vandalism were under investigation today by Town of Poughkeepsie police. Chief Vincent Smith said John Gasparini, of LaGrangeville, told authorities Thursday night that while his wife was visiting friends on Cedar Valley Road, Town of Poughkeepsie, someone stole the battery from her car. The chief reported someone threw a rock through the windshield of a town highway department truck on Seitz Terrace.

Wyner Recital Set for Sunday

Nancy Wyner, well known Woodstock mezzo-soprano, will give a lieder recital at Kleinert Hall in Woodstock, Sunday afternoon, June 16. She will be accompanied by Kenneth Newbern, pianist.

Mrs. Wyner is the wife of Yehudi Wyner, musical director of the Turnau Opera Company. She has appeared as soloist at Town Hall in New York, the famed 92nd Street "Y" and the Museum of the City of New York. She also has been featured soloist on Station WNYC and is the recipient of the 1963 New York Teachers Association Award, considered a distinguished honor for young artists.

Her recital will include works by Purcell, Handel, Schubert, Brahms, Debussy and three pieces by her husband-composer, Yehudi Wyner.

The accompanist for the recital is a graduate of the Juillard School of Music and is a member of the faculties of the YMAA and the Third Street Music Schools in New York City. In addition he is the musical director of the Lake George Opera Company and is well known as an outstanding accompanist.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling the Woodstock Playhouse.

Students Seek Summer Jobs

A number of energetic high school boys and girls from Ontario Central School are seeking employment. George R. Sullivan has announced.

Students with an interest and aptitude in a variety of activities are available, he said. Many hope to earn money to finance their future education. Among the types of work in which an interest has been shown are gardening, house-keeping, office work, hospital aid, mother's helper, service station work, camp counseling, food service, typing, retailing and similar work.

Adults who employ students for the summer provide a valuable service. The practical experiences gained make a definite contribution to the education of the young persons employed.

The Senior High Guidance Office is acting as a clearing house to help students find employment. Persons who have a need for summer help are invited to list their needs by calling the Guidance Office at Ontario.

OCS Board Meeting

A regular meeting of the Ontario Central Schools District Board of Education will be held Monday, June 17, at 8 p. m. in the dining hall of the Ontario Central School in Boiceville.

State Catching Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York just about caught up with Minnesota in May as the second largest milk producing state of the nation.

Wisconsin maintained its lead with 1,860,000,000 pounds, up 1 per cent from May 1962. Minnesota production was 1,075,000,000 pounds, down 3 per cent from a year ago. Production in New York reached a record high of 1,072,000,000 pounds for the state, up minutely from a year ago.

By 1970, air transports carrying passengers at more than twice the speed of sound are expected to be commonplace.

Valley Builders To Honor State Officials Tuesday

Two officials of the New York State Commission for Human Rights will be guests of honor at the June dinner meeting of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley.

Commissioner J. Edward Conway, of Glenelg Lake Park, and Edward Rutledge, housing director for the commission, will be honored Tuesday night, June 18, at the Ship Lantern Inn, Milton. The program will start at 6:15 p. m.

Sam Hankin, president of the Home Builders Association, has made the necessary arrangements for Conway and Rutledge to discuss with the Home Builders the various statutes pertaining to human rights that would be of particular interest to the builders of homes. Hankin said he felt the Tuesday meeting would be timely due to recent enacted legislation and prospective future legislation pertaining to civil rights and non-discrimination in housing.

Former Assemblyman

Commissioner Conway is one of the seven commissioners who constitute the New York State Commission for Human Rights. He is a native of Kingston and was formerly County Judge of Ulster County. Prior to his election as County Judge in 1940, he served Ulster County as Assistant District Attorney and Member of the Assembly. In 1946, Conway was appointed by Governor Dewey as president of the State Civil Service Commission. He served in this capacity until Jan. 1, 1954 when he resigned to accept the appointment to the then State Commission Against Discrimination.

Rutledge has served in his present capacity since 1955 when the Commission was given jurisdiction over discrimination in public housing and publicly assisted housing. Prior to his affiliation with the State Commission for Human Rights, Rutledge served for 10 years in various agencies of the State and Federal Government. Rutledge worked for several years on the West Coast as a Labor Relations Consultant. Prior to this he was an assistant professor in economics at the Colorado State University. Rutledge resides at Croton-on-Hudson.

Four-County Group

The Home Builders Association normally meets on the last Tuesday of each month. The date of the June meeting, however, has been advanced one week to June 18 in order to have both Conway and Rutledge present at the same meeting. The Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley represents builders, building supply dealers, bankers and realtors from Dutchess, Ulster Sullivan and Orange Counties.

Named to Rail Post

NEW YORK (AP) — William White was elected Thursday as chairman and chief executive officer of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad by the directors of the road.

The election becomes effective June 18.

White, 66, will relinquish his position as chief executive officer of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, but will continue as chairman.

He also will remain as chairman of the Delaware and Hudson Company, parent corporation of the D&H Railroad.

To Extend Toll Test

CHICAGO (AP) — The International Association of Great Lakes Ports, which represents 17 ports, has concluded the five-year toll rate trial period for lower St. Lawrence Seaway tolls should be extended to 1969.

A resolution, adopted by the association yesterday, flatly opposed any toll hike on grounds it would reduce traffic and revenue. It said adjustment, if there is any, should be downward.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — At the age of 5, Mike Motley lost his left leg when he was caught beneath a cement truck. Today, at the age of 12, he's No. 2 catcher for Mifflin Junior High School's baseball team.

Coaches say young Motley does everything in the way of playing, conditioning and practice that the other players do.

Stack Is Pleased Untouchables Are Done, He's Rich

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After "The Untouchables," what?

That's the issue facing Robert Stack, and he's having fun toying with it.

"At last I'm in the outside world again," he sighs. "I've given my old vest and my sweaty shoulder holster to the movieland wax museum. For a while, I want to just sit back and enjoy the freedom."

Freedom comes after four years and 120 shoot-'em-up hours of one of the most successful and controversial television series of recent history.

It all started with a two-part show on the Desilu Playhouse which told the tales of Elliott Ness and his gangbusters. The two hours, now showing in theaters as "The Scarface Mob," were a huge success and a series followed.

"People now ask me if I plan to do another series," said Stack. "I never planned to do the last one."

"But I did it as a challenge. I wanted to see if I could create a character who was chameleon-like who was not downpat, who could dash out with surprises now and then. I wanted him to be mysterious—not in the Fu Manchu sense of the word, but mysterious in that you didn't know what his reactions were going to be."

He felt he succeeded during the first season, when the raw drama of "The Untouchables" startled the television world. The second season was almost as good, but he felt the series went downhill in the third and fourth.

Shifted by ABC from Thursday to Tuesday night—"A lot of people thought we had gone off the air"—"The Untouchables" was shot down in the rating war. It happened none too soon for Stack. "I couldn't have gone another season," he said. "It wasn't merely the long hours; it was also the mental exhaustion of fighting to maintain a certain quality in the scripts."

His fights over, he is looking toward renewed vistas in features; he'll be seen this summer in "The Caretakers." He is grateful to Ness, not only for his financial advance; he converted his quarter-interest in the series into 77,000 Desilu shares—recent quotation: 64—making him the second stockholder after Lucille Ball.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DOLLAR DRAIN: An administration official has acknowledged that the U.S. balance-of-payments deficit is climbing again.

Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. said Thursday the deficit—the excess of dollars spent abroad over the amount of dollars returning to the United States—would rise to about $3.4 billion this year.

This would be more than $1 billion over the administration's estimate and a sharp reversal of reductions in the deficit since 1961.

That year the imbalance was reduced to $2.5 billion from $3.8 billion in 1959 and 1960. Last year it was $2.2 billion.

EXCISE TAXES: The House approved and sent to the Senate Thursday the perennial bill to extend tax rates set during the Korean War on automobiles and parts, cigarettes, liquor, airline tickets, general telephone service and corporate income. The vote was 283 to 91.

All told, the taxes are estimated to bring $4.2 billion into the treasury.

The rates will drop to a lower level June 30 unless action is completed on the measure by then.

FLAG DAY: Today is Old Glory's 186th birthday and Washington observes Flag Day with two ceremonies.

In late afternoon at Ft. Myer, Va., Army units parade and veterans of Viet Nam action are decorated. Then, in the evening, Flag Day exercises will be held on the Capitol steps with Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, keynoting the affair.

IN THE FAMILY: The 23-year-old son of House Democratic whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana is working as a $9,986-a-year economist on the staff of the Senate-House Economic Committee.

Boggs, who heads one of the group's subcommittees, says his son, Thomas Hale Boggs Jr., is doing a good job.

"This is no secret," he added. "It has been well known in Louisiana and here."

The committee's executive director, James W. Knowles, said young Boggs, a graduate economist, is "a hard-working and highly competent employee. If we had not had him, we would have had to go out and find someone just like him."

NEGROES IN SPACE JOBS: The Senate Space Committee has been assured that Negroes are getting jobs in the nation's expanding civilian space installations.

Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., assistant director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Negroes were being hired by NASA even at its installations in Mississippi and Alabama and "not just as janitors."

Dies of Injuries

JOHNSON CITY, N.Y. (AP)—Charles Barnum, 20, of nearby Lisie, died Thursday in Wilson Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered in an accident May 26 when his automobile left Route 79 near his home and crashed into a guard rail.

ROBERT M. SCHNITZER

Named President Of Southeastern Hospital Group

Election of Robert M. Schnitzer, administrator of Kingston Hospital, as president of the Hospital Association on Southeastern New York, took place Thursday.

The annual meeting was held in New Paltz.

He succeeds Robert L. Feil, administrator of Cornwall Hospital, who held the post for two one-year terms.

Also elected were Louis E. Breglia, administrator of Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, vice president, and Evald Boris-Koefoed, administrator of Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville, secretary-treasurer.

The new president served as the association's vice president for the past two years. He has been administrator of Kingston Hospital since 1954.

The Association's membership includes 23 hospitals in the six counties of Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan and Ulster. Its purpose is to coordinate the services of these hospitals and to foster a closer relationship between the hospitals and other health and welfare agencies.

Glancing Over TV

Duryea Has Lost Count of Death Scenes He's Done

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Dan Duryea, during 20 years of motion picture and television villainy, has lost count of the death scenes he has played.

Dan has met the heavy's inevitable fate by shooting, stabbing, poisoning, electrocution, tumbling, burning, falling, collision and suicide.

His specialty—the kind of role that started him on his long profitable career as a bad guy—has been the sniveling menace. But he also does very nicely as the weak smart aleck and the trigger-happy coward.

Duryea believes he reached some sort of peak during the past television season when he played a phony psychiatrist in an episode of "The 11th Hour," hypnotizing a woman patient so thoroughly that she killed him by clobbering him with a bottle while sobbing, "I love you, I love you."

Duryea has profited by his special brand of sleek menace. Thus he never complains seriously about type-casting, though he occasionally yearns to do some light comedy.

On Sunday afternoon he will appear as an unsavory character in "Major Adams," on ABC, a re-run of a "Wagon Train" episode from the days when the late Ward Bond was playing the trail master.

The big buzz in television circles concerns negotiations in progress among NBC, the Goodson-Todman packaging firm and Arthur Godfrey about hiring the veteran performer as host on a new game show, "Missing Links," to premiere on the network's morning lineup come September.

Recommended weekend viewing: Sunday—"The Devil's Disciple," ABC, 8-10 P.M. (ETD) — motion picture adaptation of George Bernard Shaw's play with Sir Laurence Olivier, Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas; "San Francisco Detective," NBC, 10-11 — documentary on police work.

Presbyterians, Reformed Church Discuss Merger

A mood of "cautious optimism" prevails at the meetings of the joint committee of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. and the Reformed Church in America. A group of 24 representatives of both churches are exploring the feasibility of a merger of their denominations.

At the General Synod of the Reformed Church in Fella, Iowa, this week a panel of nine members of the joint committee explored the interworkings, theology and history of the Presbyterian Church.

Albany Pastor on Panel
Among those on the Reformed Church portion of the panel was the Rev. Dr. Norman Thomas, pastor of the First Reformed Church of Albany. Others are the Rev. Dr. Raymond Van Huekelom, pastor of First Reformed Church of Iowa, Dr. Marion De Velder, stated clerk and the Rev. Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers, former president of Central College, Pella, Iowa and president of Hope College, Holland, Mich., from 1946 to 1963.

Representing the Presbyterian Church are Dr. Edward Grant, immediate past moderator of the church and former secretary of both its board of missions and of education; Henry Goodpasture, Nashville, Tenn., attorney; the Rev. Dr. Andrew Bird, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Huntington, W. Va.; the Rev. Dr. Sherrard Rice, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Columbia, S. C., and the Rev. Dr. James J. Murray, of Lexington, Va., retired pastor.

Located in Southern States
The Presbyterian Church in the United States is primarily located in the southern states from Virginia to Texas. It has 16 synods which sponsor four seminaries, 15 colleges and nine additional educational institutions. The church supports 496 missionaries on five continents with the largest number, 143, in Brazil.

Dr. Grant expressed the view of the Southern Church as "cautious optimism" with its people hopeful of a union. "We believe that we must pull down fences and begin to become a national church. A merger with the Reformed Church in America would make us almost a national church," Dr. Grant said.

Possibility of a merger with the United Presbyterian Church, U.S., is closed now, according to Dr. Grant as the United church is discussing merger with many other churches, "and if they unite it will no longer be a Presbyterian Church." The Southern church is interested only in a merger of Presbyterian character.

Talks will continue toward the goal of merger.

Language Teacher To Attend Study Course in West

NEW PALTZ — Edward Bernard of the language department of New Paltz Central School, has been selected to participate in the Institute for Teachers of Modern Foreign Languages at the University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo., this summer.

The course of study will be very intensive during eight weeks and will start with testing Monday, June 24. Spanish conversation classes will begin during a 6:30 a. m. breakfast in the Nichols language hall to be stimulated by the professors who will be in attendance. The course will then continue until 8 p. m. Classes will be held six days per week.

Linguistics, phonetics, language laboratory methods and techniques, testing, Hispano-American culture, Spanish structure are some of the materials that will be taught only in the Spanish language. No English will be spoken during the eight weeks in order to attain the objective of complete immersion in the target language.

Mr. Bernard will be one of 50 students chosen from all parts of the United States to participate in this special Spanish program made possible by the National Defense Education Act.

Douglas Heads Teachers

At the last monthly meeting of the New Paltz Teacher's Association, Alfred Douglas was elected president for the school year of 1963-64. Mr. Douglas will succeed Robert Bennett.

Also elected to the executive staff were Mrs. Rosemary Simard, vice president; Mrs. Mar-

Senior Picnic

The annual senior picnic was held at Baird Park, Poughkeepsie, recently.

The buses left the school at 8:45 a. m. Mrs. Ella Mary Moore, Harry Streifer, Mr. Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. John Wyman accompanied the group as chaperones.

After a picnic lunch, the class participated in golf, swimming, tennis, archery, softball and other outdoor sports. The picnickers returned to school at 3:55 p. m.

GAA Holds Banquet

The Girls' Athletic Association of New Paltz High School held its annual council banquet recently for this year's and next year's council members. The Blossom Farm Inn, Milton, played host to the Association.

This year's officers formally passed down their offices to the girls whom the association had elected. Next year's officers are: Nancy Culver, vice president; Kathleen Riche, secretary; Jane Redfern, treasurer; and Bonnie Thoben, point recorder.

Miss Jean Brownlee, girl's physical education teacher, is advisor to the GAA.

Designing Couple

NEW YORK (AP) — The husband-wife designing team of William and Jean Eckart is at work on two major productions of Broadway's upcoming season.

Both are musicals: "Here's Love," by Meredith Willson, and "A Girl to Remember," by Betty Comden and Adolph Green. The Eckarts currently are represented on the hit parade with their settings for "She Loves Me."

Clarkson Dean Named School Vice President

POTSDAM, N. Y. (AP)—Lowell W. Herron, dean of Clarkson College of Technology, has been appointed vice president of the school. President William L. Whitson announced today.

Herron had been acting president of the college from February 1962 until Dr. Whitson's appointment to the presidency last March.

A 1938 graduate of Kent State University, Herron joined the Clarkson faculty in 1940.

He became dean of the college in 1958, after six years as dean of the School of Arts, Science and Business Administration.

Tunes From Past

NEW YORK (AP)—Highlight sketches and tunes from past Broadway revues are being rounded up for a new stage show by Edwin Bronner, a TV producer-author.

The project is based upon "On With the Show!," a book in which George Jean Nathan set down outstanding episodes recalled from his long theater-going career.

Glusker Asking For Approval to Start Flood Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayor Eugene Glusker of Ellenville, N.Y., asked a House Appropriations subcommittee today to approve $220,000 to start planning a flood-control project on the Walkill River to protect the Ellenville area.

Glusker said that while there was no budget recommendation for the project, it has been authorized by Congress and that Army engineers have said they could utilize $220,000 on planning it in the coming year.

Potash

Originally, potash was obtained by leaching, or running water through the ashes of burned wood and boiling down the solution in large open kettles. The residue, a white solid, was called potash because it was made from ashes in pots.

World's Moslems number about 430.3 million.

Illegal Owners May Surrender Arms This Month

June is designated as "gun surrender month" during which any person who may possess a firearm without the required permission may surrender the firearm without penalty for illegal possession.

Sheriff Claude Bell has been notified by the New York State Sheriff's Association to remind anyone who may possess an unregistered firearm that it may be surrendered to the sheriff this month under Subdivision 4 of Section 1899 of the Penal Law. This provides that any person may during the month of June each year "surrender illegally possessed, pistol, revolver, firearm, firearm silencer, dangerous weapon or any other weapon enumerated by Sections 1996, 1997, 1999 and 1419 of the Penal Law, with immunity for the illegal possession thereof." This means immunity for "illegal possession" only.

The illegally possessed firearm is to be surrendered to the sheriff of the county where he resides, except in New York City and Nassau County, unless in a city of 75,000 or more where the firearm may be surrendered to a police commissioner or other head of a police force or department or his designee.

Sheriff Bell calls attention to the possession of any illegal weapon as a "menace" which could be of grave consequence and calls on all persons who may possess a weapon illegally to turn it in.

Prior to surrender the possessor must give written notice to the appropriate authority, giving his name, address, nature of weapon to be surrendered and time and place of surrender. Weapons surrendered are under a provision of the law destroyed.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN NACCARATO

At the Sacred Heart Church in Palenville on Saturday, June 1, Miss Patricia Anne Fries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fries Jr. of Palenville became the bride of John Richard Naccarato, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Naccarato of Saugerties.

The Rev. Stephen Caforio, O.F.M., officiated at the double ring ceremony with a nuptial Mass celebrated at noon. Serving at the Mass was Arthur Thomas Fries, brother of the bride, and Joseph O'Brien, Organist. Rosemarie Loy provided the music and Peter Sanson of Quarryville was the soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a long gown of white taffeta with scoop neckline of French Alencon lace. The bodice held long sleeves with points at the wrist. The wide gliding skirt was chapel length. Her headpiece was a French crown of pearls with a three tiered fingertip veil of fine silk illusion. She carried a lace covered prayer book with a white orchid and streamers of lilies of the valley and white mums.

Miss Susan Fries, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. She wore a gown of cherry pink silk organza with scoop neckline, abbreviated sleeves, molded empire bodice and floor length beaded skirt. A matching crown in petal shape held a chapel veil. She carried a basket of blue daisies.

Attendants Edythe Mariani, Kiskatom, Linda Yager, Tannersville, Mrs. James Gordon of Lake Katrine and Beverly Perry, Kingston, wore gowns and crowns similar in style to the maid of honor's but in powder blue. They carried baskets of pink, blue and white daisies.

Alfred Comito of Barclay Heights was best man and the ushers included Richard Spencer, Saugerties, Heinz Engel, Saugerties, Richard Mayone, West Hurley, and James Gordon, Lake Katrine. A reception was held at the Pleasant View Lodge, Freehold. Music was provided by Tommy Gentile and his orchestra.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Virginia Beach. The bride is a graduate of St. Patrick's Catholic Central High School, Catskill, and also attended Krissler Business Institute, Poughkeepsie. The bridegroom is a graduate of Saugerties High School and also attended Albany Business College. He is now employed by the John Hancock Insurance Company. The couple will reside in Saugerties.

SPCA Benefit Event Features Displays By Area Garden Clubs

Representatives of Ulster County Garden Clubs staged a display of table settings for the benefit of the Ulster County SPCA, at Watson Hollow Inn, West Shokan, last week.

"Hobbies" was the theme for the arrangements, and Miss Florence Hubbard, of the Woodstock Garden Club, chose Birds as her subject. Mrs. Clare Hoyt, of the New Paltz club, used Pansies; Mrs. Clarence Hansen, Ulster County Garden Club, did a Wild Flower table; while Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. George Ohley, of the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens, used Birds for their theme.

Mrs. Small and Mrs. Feldshuh, from the Shawangunk Garden Club, had antiques for their hobby. Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. Frank Pace, of the Little Garden Clubs of Kingston, chose Shells. Mrs. Clare Friedburgh, represented the Tongore Garden Club with a desert arrangement of dried material, and Mrs. Arthur Kurtz, of New Paltz, made Apples her choice. The Pines Lake Garden Club, of New Jersey, sent two visiting representatives, Mrs. Nan Hoerner and Mrs. Barbara McCraime, whose hobby was Food.

Hostesses at the luncheon included Mrs. Stephanie Johansen, Tongore; Mrs. Ruth Inness, Woodstock; Mrs. Doris Small, Shawangunk; Mrs. Retter, the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens; Mrs. Margaret Treadwell, Mrs. Marguerite Soper, Mrs. Elizabeth Chilson and Mrs. Clyde Wonderly, of Kingston; Helen Schneider, Woodstock; Miss Lyall, of Lake Hill; Mrs. Jelineck, of Albany; Mrs. Clement Chase, Ashokan; Dr. Bragg, of Woodland Valley; Mrs. William Chisolm, Big Indian; and Mrs. David Bright, of Saugerties.

For the Sunday dinner the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Heiselman, of West Shokan; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petz and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sterling, of Poughkeepsie; Mrs. David Jewett Jr., of New Paltz; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arndt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pagella and Mrs. Bev. Anderson, all of Woodstock.

"Sam, the Flower Man" determined the prices of the many rooted vines that had been donated in gay containers, while a silent auction and a Chinese auction added to the event. "Sam" will be selling both vines and candy for the balance of the summer to add to the fund quota for the county SPCA.

Drama Department At Bard College Announces Play

ANNANDALE-ON-HUDSON

The Bard College Drama Department, to end the present season, will present on Saturday, June 15, at 9 p. m., in the Blithewood Outdoor Theater the fourth annual production of a play by Shakespeare on his contemporaries. The choice this year is Shakespeare's "The Winter's Tale." Admission to the theater, on the West Lawn of Blithewood, at the college is free and reservations are not necessary. A community supper will be served before the performance at 7 p. m.

"The Winter's Tale," a late play which mixes passion, comedy, pastoral romance and magic in a high fantastic blend, is also distinguished by the most famous stage direction in drama: "exit pursued by bear." Robert Rockman plays Leontes; Susan Veit, Hermione; William Driver, Polixenes, and David Johnson and Prudence Brundick, Camillo and Paulina, in the story of mistaken jealousy and revenge which gives the play its title: "a sad tale's best for winter." But the sadness does not last and their lost or wayward children, Florisel and Perdita, played by Paul Gabriner and Blythe Danner, bring summer, youth and happiness back in the second half of the play.

FASHIONS ON PARADE—Pupils of second grade, George Washington School, had the spotlight in fashion show production presented before student body in conjunction with their study unit on clothing. Youngsters' program included reports on types of materials by Lisa Short, Monica Kiersted, Luanne Rowe and Diane Kushner; and modeling of clothing suitable for play, sports, school, beach, parties, uniforms, and casual attire. Program was under direction of Mrs. Camille Z. Mills, second grade teacher. Mrs. Tillie Shienbold was commentator, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Louis Salzmann. Fashion show participants included from the left, standing, Diane Kushner, Patricia Bruns, Luanne Rowe, Betsy Salzmann and Kent St. John; seated, Diane Krom, David Burns and Patricia Abernethy. ### Beta Sigma Phi Hears Reports on State Convention

Beta Sigma Phi, Gamma Chi Chapter held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Everett Johnson of High Falls Park. Cultural programs were presented by Amelia Kitsos, Nancy Guess, Mary Jane Herd and Alice Johnson.

The installation of the new 1963-64 officers will be held at a latter date.

Mrs. Donald Graham and Mrs. Michael Lissman of Gamma Chi Chapter and Miss Artemis Goumas of Xi Alpha Omega Chapter represented the Kingston Chapter at the New York State International Convention at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Buffalo June 7 through 9. Representatives were present from cities throughout New York State. Out-of-state delegates were from California, Pennsylvania and Canada.

Virginia Young Putzka from Beta Sigma Phi International in Kansas City, Mo., who is the director of the new chapter service spoke of her many experiences in helping women all over the world form chapters of Beta Sigma. The sorority has 150,000 active members in 7,000 Chapters established in 19 countries of the Free World. Each member accepts as her responsibility the right to be useful to her home and family, to her community and to the world.

In Kingston the chapter is known for its readiness to help in community project. The Kingston Chapter also received recognition for its participation in three outstanding funds sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi, social and cultural sorority. The funds are endowment fund for the benefit of humanity; loan fund to help members in time of emergency; and the exemplar fund to spread literacy to the unlearned in India.

During the past year alone, the Endowment Fund has contributed to Girlstown, $14,400, Children's Cancer Research Foundation, $10,000, National Cystic Fibrosis Research, $10,000 and Camp Kokosing for rehabilitation of Crippled and Handicapped Children, $5,000.

The chapter meets twice a month for its own progress. Their socials are known and enjoyed by many in the community.

New York City's Mayor Robert Wagner sent a telegram to all Beta Sigma Phi members attending the Buffalo Convention, to try to attend the 1964 New York State Beta Sigma Phi International Convention in October, at which time the New York City Chapters of Beta Sigma will be hosts.

Athletic Clothes For Women Are in Sight for Fall

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Possibly because of all that talk about 50-mile hikes and "vigah," and new frontier football, women are about to wear the most athletic-looking clothes since their high school gym suits.

The nation's fashion buyers have been elbowing their way through the crowded garment district here this week, busily ordering fall apparel labeled with "the sportive look."

However, if anyone thinks that a nation of muscle-flexing, deep-breathing, rosy-cheeked females will result, he had best revise the image.

Designers do not expect that sport-inspired styles will stir modern fashions from their usual lassitude.

There are fisherman jackets in almost every fall collection. But the poor fish the wearers hope to hook are not in the sea. There are after ski clothes, most of which will get no closer to the cold than the kitchen deep freeze.

Girls who will wear tennis sweaters twinkling with jeweled beads may very well play a love game at charity balls, but never on a tennis court. And women in hacking jackets and boots may gallop through the aisles of department stores, and not bridle paths — at least not that kind.

Mrs. James F. Maloney Is Elected to Head Parents Association at Ursula Academy

Mrs. James F. Maloney has been elected president of the Parents' Association of the Academy of St. Ursula for the term 1963-64. Mrs. Maloney, in her acceptance of the office, asked for the continued interest and support of the members. She stated her primary objective would be to plan a program which will be mutually beneficial to the Sisters of St. Ursula and the Parents' Association, and fulfill the purpose for which the Association was formed.

Mrs. Maloney said she is looking forward to working with the other elected officers which were presented by Donald Calkins, chairman of the nominating committee. The officers who have served for the past year and were re-elected to serve with Mrs. Maloney are Abram Heinlein, vice-president; Mrs. James Costello, recording secretary; and Bronislaw Hudela, treasurer. Completing her second year as president of the Association, Mrs. John D. O'Brien thanked the Sisters of the Academy, the officers, the executive board members, project chairmen and parents for their untiring efforts and cooperation during her her of office.

Mrs. Hudela, general chairman, gave a final report on the garden party which was held in May and expressed her thanks to all who had helped to make it a most successful event, socially as well as financially.

Mother Mary Eleanor, Superior, expressed the gratitude of all the Sisters to the parents for their devoted efforts on behalf of the school.

The next meeting will be held in the fall after school re-opens.

American Academy Of Dramatic Arts Going on Tour

The American Academy of Dramatic Arts, oldest school of dramatic training in the English-speaking world, is taking to the road.

Next fall, in the months of October and November, the Academy Players will present Lynn Riggs' famous folk drama, "Green Grow the Lilacs," to club, school, and college audiences in the New York and Hudson Valley areas.

"Green Grow the Lilacs" was the lively and colorful Broadway play which later became the basis for Rodgers and Hammerstein's unforgettable musical, "Oklahoma!" The original play tells the same story of the Indian Territory as it was in 1900.

Actors in this Academy Players production will be selected from the best of recent American Academy graduates. The production itself, combining imaginative settings, costumes, and lighting, will travel to its engagements by bus and truck.

The American Academy of Dramatic Arts has long been famous as the school which gives the stars their first basic training. Among the former Academy graduates are Spencer Tracy, Rosalind Russell, Agnes Moorehead, Grace Kelly, Edward G. Robinson, Kirk Douglas, Sam Levine, William Powell, Howard Lindsay and Anne Bancroft.

A number of schools and organizations in the Albany and Hudson Valley areas have already booked engagements of "Green Grow the Lilacs." Other clubs and educational institutions interested in such an engagement should contact the Academy's National Chairman, Gordon A. Rust, American Academy of Dramatic Arts, 245 West 52nd Street, New York City.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENT LEADERS—Twenty-six KHS students have been approved for membership in "Who's Who Among Student Leaders in High Schools of America." They were selected through ballot in the senior homerooms of Kingston High on the basis of scholarship, leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, service to school and community and promise for future usefulness. In the group are: Marilyn Bowers, Barbara A. Buddenhagen, Guy Bush, Jeffery A. Davis, Sharyn R. Farber, Arlene Forte, Barry A. Gold, Peter H. Goldfarb, Bonnie M. Hall, Michael A. Hart, Richard Kline, Kulsoom Hussein, Karen A. Lang, Jack R. Lewis, Phillip F. McDonald, John J. McGarry, Rasalyn Marcus, Neil I. Miller, Kathleen A. Murphy, Patricia M. Nash, Paul T. Natale, Robert K. Ploss, J. Peter Roberts, Ronald J. Thomas, Robert S. Whiston, and Barbara Anne Williams.

Robert M. Strugatz Bar Mitzvah Told

Robert Mark Strugatz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Strugatz, 11 Browning Terrace, will be called to The Torah on the occasion of his Bar Mitzvah at 9 a. m., Saturday, at Congregation Ahavath Israel, 72 Wurts Street. Friends are invited to attend the Kiddush in the vestry hall after services.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL E. PERRY of East Chester Street By-Pass are feted on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary at a surprise party Monday night at the Capri Restaurant. Arrangements for the event which was attended by 75 guests were made by the couple's seven children. They are Michael, Ronald, Beverly, Darlene, Debbie Lou, Terri and Gerard. Mr. and Mrs. Perry received many gifts of silver including a serving set from their children. The couple were married June 10, 1938 in St. Mary's Church, this city. Mrs. Perry is the former Catherine Gill. (Freeman photo)

Class of 1943 Has Reunion Here; Deemed Successful

The Class of 1943 of Kingston High School successfully celebrated its 20th reunion with a cocktail party on Friday night, June 7 and a dinner-dance, Saturday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The highlight of Friday night's gathering was greeting approximately 200 classmates, many of whom had not seen each other often, if at all, for 20 years. Mrs. Peter Mancuso arranged the affair, which included harmonizing on hits of the 40's played by Howard Houghtaling.

Invocation for Saturday evening was given by classmate Father George Moore of Our Lady of the Assumption Church in the Bronx. The evening's program, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Tucker, included a speech of welcome from reunion chairman Irving Kotrady and introduction of guests and reminiscences by toastmaster, Bill Brophy.

Honored guest, Clarence Dumm, retired principal of KHS, spoke both humorously and sentimentally of his association with the Class of 43. Other honored guests included Mrs. Thomas Partlan and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNelis.

A duet lyrics of which were written by Bill Brophy, was sung by classmates Thatcher Wood and Bill, reviving many old memories for many of the group. A feature of both evenings was the bulletin board, compiled by Mrs. Erwin Mattice, containing greetings and snapshots from absent members of the class.

The terminal meeting of the reunion committee will be held on Thursday June 20th at the Ulster County Savings Institution at 7:45 p. m.

Bridal Shower Is Given

A surprise bridal shower was given in honor of Paulette Miller recently at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Cafaldo, 62 Foxhall Avenue. Co-hostess with Mrs. Cafaldo was Mrs. Marvin Miller.

Among those attending were the Mmes. John Miller, Victor DeCicco, Augustus Stopczynski, Vincent Stopczynski, Thomas Cragan, Allen Peck, John Bradford, Donald Dugan, Henry Fisher, Peter Greco, Frank Prusack, Edward Miller, Jennie Stopski, and the Misses Colleen Miller, Jennie Reila, Donna Dugan and Gail Prusack.

Miss Miller will wed Thomas Fisher on June 23.

Teenagers Awarded For YWCA Service

A Y-Teen Recognition Service was held recently at the YWCA which concluded this year's activities.

Gift certificates were given to the girls who had the most hours of volunteer service without pay. High school, first place, Charlotte Peda; high school, second place, Jackie Mottey; junior high, first place, Karen Bonavita.

Mothers of the girls were guests both from the Saugerties and Kingston clubs. Advisors present were Mrs. Warren Knaust, Saugerties, Mrs. Gerard Hawkins, Mrs. Robert Murray, and Mrs. Donald Boyce, Kingston. Staff attending were Mrs. Mary D. Short and Mrs. Fred Port.

Lynn Demski, president of Tri-Hi introduced the president of the club, Peggy Blankschan. Wake-Ups, gave a summary of their program. Judy Abelow gave a report of the Junior-High Conference held in Poughkeepsie. Donna Beckert from Saugerties reported on their club and Lynn Demski reported for Tri-Hi and Y-Notes.

Ginny Hawkins president of Y-Notes led the girls in a Candlelight service.

MAY SHE CONTACT BOY?

Q: I moved to this city several years ago. Before moving here I had several dates with a man from my home town. I have just learned that he has moved to this city and is living at a man's club. In keeping with the rules of propriety, may I contact him? I haven't heard from him since I left and I doubt that he knows I live here.

A: You may write him a brief note saying that you are delighted to hear he has come to New York to live and that you hope you will get to see him some time. If he is interested, he will call or write you, but if you do not hear from him, you can do nothing further.

When May She Re-marry?

Q: Six months ago my husband passed away after having been a complete invalid for practically our entire married life. Recently a close friend of my husband, who was devoted to us both, has become attentive to me and has asked me to marry him. We both feel we would be very happy together but wonder what the proper waiting interval should be.

A: A year is the conventional waiting period. However, situations do alter cases, and in your particular one of caring for an invalid husband practically your entire married life, friends and relatives will surely approve of your remarriage to this man who promises a happier future, before the year is out.

Setting Extra Places at Table

Q: Someone just told me that for a correctly set table even though one person dines alone, four places should be set. To me this sounds utterly ridiculous and I can't believe it is true. Will you please tell me if my informant is right about this?

A: In times gone by, in very formally run houses with a full staff of servants, the table was set with four places even though the lady or gentleman dined alone. Today, in houses with little or no service, this would indeed be absurd.

DARRELL WAYNE HARP

Law School Graduate Named State Attorney

Darrell Wayne Harp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter H. Harp, of New Paltz, was graduated magna cum laude from the Albany Law School, and thus became eligible for membership in the Justinian honorary legal scholarship society.

The third member of his family to graduate from the Albany school, Harp received his bachelor of arts degree in 1960 from Union College where he was a member and president of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

His father graduated from Albany Law School in 1924, and his older brother, Robert, won his degree in 1953.

While at the law school, Darrell Harp served as vice president of his freshman class and in his sophomore year was awarded the American Jurisprudence Prize for excellence in bills and notes and trusts. At the commencement ceremony, he was awarded the Williams Press Prize for maintaining the highest standing in bills and notes and conflict of laws.

He has accepted a position as junior attorney for the State of New York. He is married to the former Suzanne Elizabeth Warner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Warner, of Schenectady.

Poughkeepsie Woman Among Alfred Grads

Grace Norma Robertson, of Poughkeepsie, graduated with honors from Alfred University at Alfred, N. Y.

A graduate of the College of Liberal Arts, she was among 312 candidates who received degrees at the commencement convocation. The commencement address was given by the Rev. Gustave Weigel, S.J., professor of Ecclesiology at Woodstock College in Maryland.

Loures Confers Diplomas on 23 Ulster Students

Diplomas were conferred on 23 students from Ulster County at the second commencement exercises of Our Lady of Lourdes High School, Poughkeepsie. The Most Rev. John J. McGuire, auxiliary bishop of New York, presented the diplomas to the 170 graduates of the co-educational school. He was assisted by the Very Rev. Matthew J. Cox, supervising principal of Lourdes.

The Very Rev. E. M. Connors, associate superintendent of schools of the New York Archdiocese, delivered the address to the graduates.

The following students from Ulster County communities were members of the graduation class: Andrew Daly, Flatbush Road; A. G. Vistor Deilly, Sunrise Park RD 1; Patricia Ann Dumont, RD 3; George N. Ferguson, 28 East Chester Street; Bertrand P. Fitzgibbons, Route 5; Lawrence Geuss, 165 West Chestnut Street; Robert Moore, 7 Ten Broeck Avenue; Francis T. Murray, 50 Johnston Avenue; Richard M. Netter, 111 Andrew Street; Robert Provenzano, 343 Pearl Street; William E. Sheeley, 244 Main Street, and John M. Smith, Sunset Park, all of Kingston.

Also, Paul Gorman, 5 Brookside Park, Lake Katrine; Robert E. Mathews, 28 James Street, Rosendale; Susan Marie Berean, North Road; Mary Lou Coutant, 9 Washington Avenue; Louise R. De Vivo, 6 Wood Road, and Anthony Lordi, 53 Main Street, all of Highland; William Ecker and Frank Primm, Gardiner, and Rosemary V. Decker, 48 Church Street; Frederick Michel, RD 1, and Lynne Anne Phillips, 5 Hasbrouck Place, New Paltz.

Honors Awarded
Francis Murray received the general excellence award for the boys' department. Scholarship awards went to Lawrence Geuss and Paul Gorman.

Murray, Geuss, Robert Provenzano, and William Sheeley were among the 10 top students in the boys' department, while Mary Coutant won a scholarship award and Rosemary Decker placed among the 10 top students in the girls' department.

Ranch, Rebate, Trip, Etc

Nice Tidings But They Never Arrive

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Fragments from letters we'd like to get—but never do:

"We regret to inform you of the passing of your great uncle, Oswald Frothingham-Frisbie, who choked to death on a martini olive. In his will he left you a 30,000-acre sheep ranch in Australia and his pet kangaroo."

"As a dentist who takes pride in his profession, I have been suffering conscience pangs because of the $400 fee I charged for making your upper plate. I realize now I shouldn't have put the bite on you for that much, as the job really wasn't worth it. Therefore I am sending you herewith a rebate check for $250—and the next time you come in for a checkup I'll clean your lower teeth for nothing."

"We are delighted to give you the good news that you have won first prize in the Republican party's nationwide 50-word essay contest, 'What Calvin Coolidge Means to Me.' In addition to the free trip to Hawaii for you and your wife, we are pleased to send you a framed autographed picture of Mr. Coolidge and an Indian head penny found in the pocket of a suit in his closet. It is believed by local historians to be the first penny he ever earned."

"Darling, forget the fact that father is an immensely wealthy man who looks upon you as a mere fortune hunter. After all, we won't be dependent on him. Grandmother left me 30 acres of downtown Dallas in my own right, and as soon as we're married I'll give half of it to you. Of course, if you don't think we'd be happy in Dallas, we could sell our real estate there—and buy Fort Worth or Houston."

"I know mother had her heart set on a big wedding for me. Daddykins, but it would be such a terrible bother—and the reception and everything would cost you $1,000 or maybe $1,500. So George and I just decided to elope and get married by a justice of the peace. Will you forgive us?"

"During my visit here with mother, darling, I've had more time to think over the idea of buying that mink coat, and have decided it would be foolish. Fur makes me look too fat. So, if you haven't already borrowed the money from the bank, forget it. An inexpensive cloth coat will do nicely, and I can pay for that myself out of what I've saved from the household budget."

"The President read with keen interest your thoughtful letter appraising the domestic situation, and would like to have you closer at hand for advice on the foreign situation. He has asked me in strict confidence whether you would be interested in a Cabinet post. Naturally, the government would pick up the tab for your moving expenses."

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The fight to reduce poverty in the United States has made strides in the 25 years since the last major depression. Many of today's battles center on speeding up the process.

And the argument is over how to pep up the economic growth rate, which has the frustrating tendency to fluctuate despite the best efforts of official planners.

New Peak in Making

They hold that if the nation could maintain the growth rate it had during the Korean War period—around 6 per cent a year from 1950 through 1953—poverty could be licked as a major problem.

The rate between the last business peak in the second quarter of 1960 to the end of 1962 was 3 per cent a year. A new peak seems in the making, but still too low to make much of a dent in the total of those who live in poverty.

Yet the current advance is faster than the annual growth rates between the two previous peaks of activity—a 2.3 per cent rate from the second quarter of 1953 to the third quarter of 1957, and 2.7 per cent from then to the second quarter of 1960.

The economy has gone for 25 years since the last serious setback in 1938, which followed a more serious one in the first years of the 1930s. This 25-year stretch between major dips is the longest in the last 100 years.

But the economy has had its comparatively minor setbacks, which now go by the name of recessions. And these have held back the general inroads on the percentage of those who live in poverty.

Have Cushions Now

Few businessmen believe that business cycles are dead, or even completely curable. They do hold that many safeguards have been built up to ward off such blows and to cushion them when they occur.

Emphasis has now shifted to the economic growth rate. The administration aim is to get it up to 4 per cent a year at least. Even that might leave large pockets of unemployment, and hence of poverty, despite all relief measures. The administration view is that in 1947 one third of American families had less than $3,000 a year income and therefore lived in poverty. This was cut to one-fourth by 1956 and to one-fifth by 1961. Since then personal incomes have risen, but largely in the middle brackets. And unemployment has held in the range of 5 to 6 per cent of the total labor force.

Standards of living have risen for the majority of Americans, but not for the lowest fifth.

And that is one reason you hear constantly of various schemes for increasing the economic growth rate. The hope is that this would overcome the other reasons for unemployment, automation, lack of education and other job training, even some saturation in the demands of affluent families for more gadgets.

You get a whole lot more than that '59 Chevrolet (great as it was!) could offer. Some big improvements, some small, some for savings, some for performance, some for comfort.

For example, you get a car that's easier to care for. Flush-and-dry ventilating system uses rain and wash water to help remove corrosion-causing elements from rocker panels. Its more fully aluminumized exhaust system, self-adjusting brakes and new Delcotron generator (battery-saver!) cut costs, too.

You get styling and interior comfort you'd look for in far more expensive '63 cars. Plus such optional equipment* as a Super Sport package and adjustable Comfortilt steering wheel to make an Impala Sport Coupe or Convertible as personalized as you like.

You get a wider choice of horsepower, from the economical 140-hp Turbo-Thrift 6 up to a 425-hp V8.* You get long-term savings from Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value. # Randall and Hughes Seek Fifth Herdegen Golf Titles

LEON RANDALL

BILL VAN AKEN

GEORGE HUGHES

CLARENCE RAICHLE

Tourney Opener Set Saturday At Woodstock CC

It's the field—a surprisingly big 62-player contingent—against defending champion Leon Randall and George Hughes in the 13th annual Herdegen Memorial golf tournament which starts Saturday at 9 a. m. at Woodstock Country Club.

Randall, the peerless shot-maker and perennial kingpin at Wiltwyck Country Club, and Hughes, Twaalfskill's Sweet Swinger, are tied with four Herdegen victories each in the 12-year history of the tournament.

The veteran Woodstock Country Club ace—Bill Van Aken—has three and Clarence (Dubby) Raichle, of Twaalfskill, is credited with one.

The huge field will be shooting for more prizes than ever before. The winner is recognized as Ulster County Amateur champion and receives the traditional Green Coat in addition to a trophy. There are 11 merchandise prizes and each of the 24 qualifiers (and ties) will get a special prize this year.

Young Turks Ready

Three Young Turks—William (Buzzy) Costello and Harold (Clancy) Van Aken of Wiltwyck and Rick Barthel of Twaalfskill and State University College of New Paltz—are conceded good chances of ousting the Old Guard. Costello tied for first place in the Eastern Intercollegiate at Montclair, N. J. this spring and was 9th in the NAIA college tournament at Kansas City two weeks ago.

Staking the champions are such redoubtable performers as Harvey Bostic, Ronnie Marks and Charles J. Turck of Wiltwyck; Alvin Boice of Twaalfskill and Bill Waterhouse, former Woodstock champion.

There is extra high school flavor this time around with several current and past Kingston High and Ontario Central players in the field.

Randall has won three of the last four tournaments. Van Aken holds the all-time tournament record of 275 strokes. Par for the four courses is: Woodstock, 70; Twaalfskill, 70; Shawangunk (Ellenville), 68; Wiltwyck, 72.

The field will be reduced to 24 low scores and ties after 36 holes. Second round will be played Sunday at 9 a. m. at the Twaalfskill Club. The third round is scheduled Saturday, June 22, at Shawangunk and the finals the next day at Wiltwyck.

Trip to Scotland For a Lucky Ace

Are holes-in-one getting easier to make? Actually the odds rose in 1962 when only 11,092 were scored in the United States as compared to 12,888 the year before. So the chances remain somewhere about 90,000 to 1 that your partner will not get one the next time you're out digging divots—that's if you are the waging sort.

The nation's estimated 6,000,000 golf devotees are still recording highly coveted "ones" at a fast pace and for a variety of rewards—not the least of which is a free golfing trip for two in Scotland, birthplace of golf.

Any person who gets a hole-in-one at any time during 1963 is eligible for this competition, the annual Old Smuggler Sweepstakes. Procedure for entering is a great deal simpler than getting the ace. The club professional merely fills in an entry blank verifying the hole-in-one and sends it to the Old Smuggler Sweepstakes, P. O. 21 D, Mount Vernon 10, N. Y.

The winner will be drawn shortly after the first of the year and will be announced at that time. The prize includes round trip airline tickets to Scotland and $1,000 for spending money.

The professional who sends in the winning name will also receive $1,000.

A Youngstown, Ohio insurance man, Ken Hazel, won the 1962 Sweepstakes and was to go to Scotland in June where arrangements had been made for him to play historic St. Andrew's.

Arnie's Thunderbird Round Alerts The Pro Golf Mob

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Arnold Palmer has it going again, and that is unsettling news for the men who scramble for purses on professional golf's golden highway.

"It wasn't work like it has been recently — it was fun again for a change," the perfectly relaxed three-time Masters champion beamed after posting a 3-under-par 67 Thursday for a share of the first round lead in the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic.

Tied with Palmer going into today's second round was an awed, 24-year-old rookie pro from Waterloo, Iowa, Jack Rule. Arnold had a two-stroke cushion over his principal rivals, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

Nicklaus, his putting touch cold, and Player, favored by a lucky ruling, were bunched with a dozen at 69. Ben Hogan, making a tournament comeback at the age of 50, was close with 71.

Who's To Do It?

But the question they were asking around the 6,550-yard, par 70 Westchester Country Club course was:

"Who's going to collar the lion?"

Palmer looked like the king again as he cowed the course with his typically powerful drives and solved the spacious greens with confident putting.

The 33-year-old Palmer missed only one fairway the 18th — and one-putted eight greens, sinking the difficult seven and eight-footers as if they were kick-ins.

Playing in beautiful, sunny weather before a gallery of more than 10,000, nineteen players in the 138-man field broke par and eight others, including Sam Snead and Dow Finsterlin, equalled it.

One shot back of Palmer and Rule were Bill Eggers of Henderson, Nev., Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., and Gay Brewer, Jr., of Dallas, all with 34-34-68.

Bridge Champs Win 19 Matches

A team composed of Hilden Rector, Henry Barhet and John Chapman of Poughkeepsie and Miss Carol Sherman of Beacon recorded the second highest score ever in the Hudson Valley to score a smashing win in the Glenrie Bridge Club annual Team-of-Four club title. The winners won 19 of 25 matches.

Second place went to Harry Thayer and C. Paul Jensen of Kingston; Mrs. Eleanor Triller of Poughkeepsie and Dr. Paul Perlman of Woodstock with 17½ wins.

The third place team, with a total of 15½ wins, was composed of Mr. and Mrs. George Schoenbrun, Myron Fleishman and Lester Belin, Poughkeepsie, with 15½ wins.

In fourth place were Dr. Victor Randel, Herbert Gertner, Milton Dubin and Stanley Kaplan, Kingston, with 15 wins.

The fifth place finishers were Ralph Wesselsmann, Shokan; Henry Berleth, Woodstock; Robert Tomasulo and Stephen Goldstein, Staatsburg, with 14 wins.

The regular fractional point game is scheduled tonight, 8 o'clock, at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Sioux Win, 2-1, In Met Loop Tilt

Sioux scored a run in the top of the sixth and went on to stop Apache, 2-1 in a Metropolitan Knottville league game.

Jim Murphy doubled for the losers while Doug Brayman had a pair of singles for the Sioux.

Line score:
Sioux ..... 000 101-2 4
Apache ..... 010 000-1 2
Gordy Stoutenburg, Gary Bittner and Doug Brayman, Charles Foster, John Elgo, Steve Foster, Ernie Cozza and Bill Burt.

Tattooing Bears

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Now they're tattooing bears in New York State's forests.

The State Conservation Department, in its continuing survey of the bear population, found that ear tags on those captured became lost too easily. So, the department turned to tattooing of the thigh and sometimes the upper lip.

The tattoo is an unromantic serial number.

Army Football Seeks Mid-Hudson Support; Coach Dietzel Pleased With Prospects

By CHARLES J. TIANO
(Freeman Sports Editor)

The United States Military Academy, draped in its austerity and grandeur at West Point, is making a pitch for mid-Hudson clientele for its 1963 football schedule at Michie Stadium.

And it couldn't have picked a more attractive or better qualified salesman to make the soft pitch than head football Coach Paul Dietzel, who addressed Kingston Rotary this week.

A low-key, persuasive and charming man this Dietzel. "People in this area are important to us," the boyish looking coach told the Rotarians. "We'd like to have and need a local following at West Point. It's not as austere as some people think and a wonderful place to take the kids."

Dietzel, who was introduced by program chairman, Dick Roth, as one of the nation's most successful football coaches, is an able ambassador for the Black Knights of the Hudson. He said Michie Stadium's seating capacity would be increased by 8,000 new seats on one side of the stadium. A season's ticket for the five home games is available at $18.00 and for every sideline season ticket, Army guarantees one seat for the Army-Navy contest, scheduled Nov. 30 in Philadelphia.

Full Info for Patrons

Reflecting the greatest concern about the prospective new clientele, Coach Dietzel said each ticket holder would receive a parking pass to the areas above the plains. "And just to make it easier, we will distribute maps and color charts to guide the patron in and out of the post and stadium," he added. "But come early," he asked. "That morning dress parade at West Point is a spectacular sight. Last year more than 200,000 persons visited the Academy on Saturdays."

Army's 1963 home slate lists encounters with Boston U., University of Cincinnati, Wake Forest, Washington State and Utah. Two major road contests are slated in October—against Minnesota at Minneapolis, Oct. 5; and Penn State at University Park, Pa., Oct. 12. The big road tests in November: at Air Force Academy in Chicago, Nov. 2; at Pittsburgh, Nov. 16; and the traditional windup with Navy at Philadelphia on Nov. 30.

Refusal of the Ivy League to play Army in football somewhat hampers the Army's desire to inject a heavier Eastern flavor to its schedule.

"The Ivys will play us in all the major sports except football," Dietzel explained. "As a result we find that our Eastern competition pretty generally revolves around Syracuse, Penn State, Pittsburgh and Navy. Occasionally we get Boston University and Boston College."

ND On Schedule

Dietzel said Army has drafted its football schedule through 1971 and most of the nation's major grid powers, including Notre Dame are scheduled for future meetings.

Looking ahead, Dietzel said Army should have a first rate team in the fall. "We are strong through the middle," he explained, "have 17 or 18 lettermen returning. Our first team is good but we have the perennial problem—lack of depth."

Dietzel said he left the post at L.S.U., where he piloted a national champion and earned nationwide recognition because of the challenge West Point presented.

"I believe in the mission of the Academy," he said. "I would rather have my son attend West Point than any other school in the country."

The youthful coach dissented from the prevailing, anti-youth climate.

"I've seen many colleges and travelled thousands of miles in recent months," he told an audience that by now was galvanized by his subtle approach to the topic. "I have the greatest confidence in our young people. They are the most precious commodity we have. I enjoy working with young people and I treat every football player at West Point as I would want my own son treated."

No Football Machine

"At the Point," Dietzel went on, "we are not trying to build a

Triangle Tops Bloomington, 6-1

Jerry Green struck out 13 and allowed only three hits as Triangle Inn beat Bloomington Inn, 6-1, in a recent City Softball League game.

Turck and Garrison doubled and had five of the winners' six hits. Pratt had a pair of singles for Bloomington.

Sport Club Can Cop Soccer Title

Unbeaten in their last 38 Central New York Soccer Association games, the Kingston Sport Club can clinch the 1962-63 title Sunday at Albany.

Coach Bob Graves' booters take on the Albany Sport Club at Zwickelbauer Manor (McCormick Corners) and a victory or tie will bring the title to Kingston.

Game time is 3 p. m., with the players and fans departing from the clubhouse at Oehler's Mountain Lodge at 11 a. m.

An old sportswriter sat and listened in undisguised amazement, as Dietzel made his appeal for mid-Hudson support of Army football. It used to be that way in the long ago. But then along came Blanchard and Davis and things changed. The Army public relations office went "big time" and forgot its old friends.

We have a hunch Paul Dietzel will do something to restore the fine rapport that existed ante-Blanchard and Davis.

Braves Praised By Yonkers Man

The Kingston Braves, who open the Mid-Atlantic League season Saturday night against the Beacon Braves at Dietz Stadium, have been roundly applauded for good sportsmanship and exemplary conduct at Yonkers.

Herbert D. Vogt, a member of the Yonkers Athletics' official staff, wrote as follows:

"Last Sunday the Kingston baseball club of the Mid-Atlantic League came to Yonkers to play our club. Both clubs, very evenly matched, played a fine game. But what impressed us the most was the fine conduct of the Kingston players. They were great sports and perfect gentlemen and friendly all the time they were in Yonkers. A few followers of the Kingston club were here and they also were friendly and good sports."

"If this is the type of people you have in Kingston, then Kingston must be a nice place in which to live."

"We are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to our coming trip to Kingston to meet its ball club. Good luck to Kingston."

Ferraro Leads Loop in Triples

Mike Ferraro, former Kingston High All-DUSO star in basketball and baseball, is leading the Western Carolina league in triples.

"The New York Yankee bonus player hit his fifth triple of the season Tuesday night to bring his Shelby club from behind and give it a win over Lexington in the first game of a doubleheader."

In the second game, Ferraro had a two-run single in three trips to the dish. The previous night, he hit his second home run of the season as Shelby stopped Lexington, 2-0.

Ferraro is playing shortstop for the Yankees farm club. He is hitting second in the order and leads the team in percentage with a .278 average.

Past Vivid to Vander Meer, Double 0-Hitter 25 Years Ago

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

In the 25 years since June 15, 1938, Johnny Vander Meer has told the story of his two no-hitters so often that he can start at midnight and name batter, count and umpire. The memories still are green although the Dutchman is 46 with a few extra pounds around the middle and a little gray seeding on the top.

Spencer Tracy was playing "Boys Town." Lawrin has just won the Derby and Doug Corrigan was preparing to fly to Dublin—the wrong way — when Vander Meer came to Broadway from Cincinnati with one no-hitter already in his pocket. John had blanked the Boston Braves, then managed by Casey Stengel, 3-0 on Saturday afternoon, June 11 in Cincinnati.

Now it was Wednesday night the 15th and Larry MacPhail was introducing night baseball at Ebbets Field, little knowing that Vander Meer would put the icing on the cake with his second no-hitter.

Located by telephone the other midnight at a Key West, Fla., motel, he willingly recalled his night of fame.

"I was quick that night," the heavy voice said over some 1,600 miles of cables. "Lom (catcher Ernie Lombardi) called only four or five curve balls the first seven innings. Then we switched to the curve."

"The ninth? I'll never forget it. I got the first man out (Buddy Hassett). Then I walked the bases full. The next man hit to Lew Riggs at third base and he went to the plate. Lom held the ball for the force out."

"Then Durocher was up. I got two strikes and a ball. I had him struck out on the next pitch but Bill Stewart called it a ball. The next pitch he popped up to short center and Harry Craft caught it."

"The first guy to the mound was Stewart. If you didn't get that, I blew it for you," he told me. I didn't even know it was a record for organized ball."

Did Vander Meer have any special plans for celebrating his 25th anniversary?

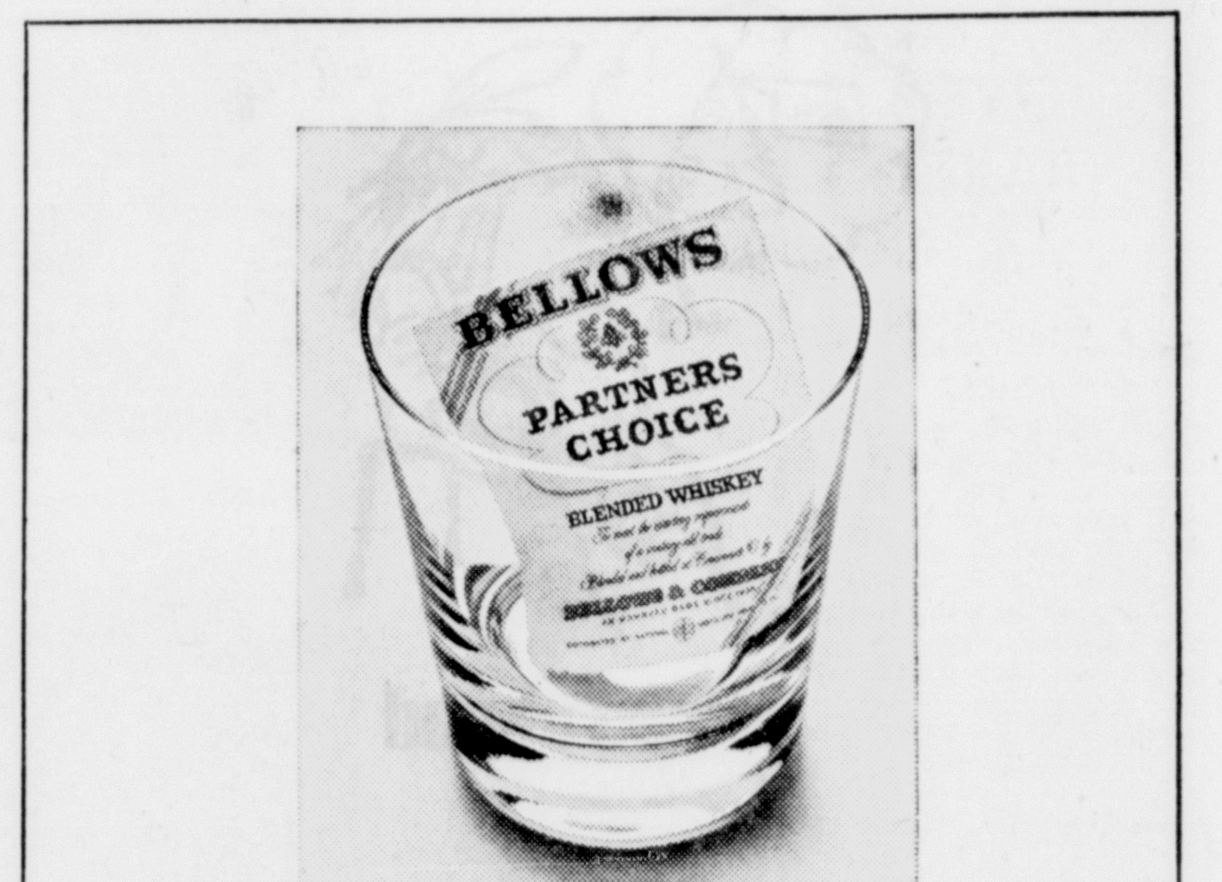

"Twenty five years ago when the game was over in Brooklyn I went fishing, over in Jersey, my old home state," said Johnny.

"This Saturday morning at 4 o'clock I have an appointment to go bass fishing."

BE A REBEL TONIGHT; JOIN THE WHISKEY REBELLION

Every day of the year, a few men—a handful of rebels—stop buying their whiskey by habit.

They join the ranks of the discriminating people who buy by choice.

Bellows Partners Choice. Why?

They hear from someone (maybe their bartender) that Partners Choice is gentle on the tongue. And it is.

There's a good explanation. It's made with more gently aged premium whiskeys.

They hear, too, that it's gentle on the pocket (only $6.19 a quart).

In fact, Partners Choice is the gentle taste in whiskey. Don't wait till someone tells you...be a rebel yourself.

Instead of habit...make it "Choice," the gentle whiskey from Bellows.

Sal Sangi Hurls No-Hitter As Glasco Dodgers Win, 2-0

Sal Sangi hurled a no-hitter as the Dodgers beat the Giants, 4-0 in a Glasco Little League game. The winners broke a scoreless deadlock with three runs in the fifth and another in the sixth.

Paul Watzka allowed only two hits but he was a tough luck loser. Sangi aided his cause, singling once and scoring a pair of runs.

The winners made three errors but Sangi was equal to the occasion.

VanDine Stars For ALL Red Sox

Gary VanDine hurled a one-hitter and fanned 13 batters as Misasi's Red Sox defeated the Lions Club, 22-0, in an American Little League game.

VanDine proved to be an excellent hitting pitcher. He had a triple, two doubles and a pair of singles in as many trips to the dish. Monty Rios had two doubles, a homer and single. Larry Crantz had a double, triple and home run while Bill Brady stroked a double and three singles.

All told, the winners accumulated 22 base hits. Ed Brown's single was the only safety off VanDine.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept help wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Beginning September 3, 1961, employees engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour and at least time and one-half for hours worked after 40 in a workweek, unless specifically exempted. Employers of certain large retail, service, construction, and other enterprises must be paid not less than $1.00 an hour after September 3, 1961, but no overtime for such employment is required until September 3, 1963. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning this law or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at Bronx, Abraham Kleinbard, Investigation Supr., 881 Genesee Ave., Bronx, N. Y. W-12235.

BOND AND CAPITAL NOTE
RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED JUNE 4, 1963, AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE SANITARY SEWER SYSTEM OF SAID CITY CONSISTING OF THE FOLLOWING: THE ROUNDOUT AND PONCKHOCKIE INTERCEPTOR SEWERS AND IMPROVEMENTS TO THE EXISTING SEWAGE TREATMENT PLANT, STAGING THE ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST THEREOF IS $226,000. THE BOARD OF EDUCATION THEREFORE AUTHORIZES THE ISSUANCE OF $226,000 OF SERIAL BONDS TO PROVIDE THE DOWN PAYMENT AND $226,000 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID CITY, TO FINANCE THE CONSTRUCTION OF SAID APPROPRIATION AND AUTHORIZING THE APPLICATION OF THE SAME TO THE FUND.

WHEREAS, the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, has, following due application, received a grant of $84,690 from the principal of the Federal Government, through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, pursuant to the provisions of 42 U.S.C. 4366 et seq., for financing the construction of the Roundout and Ponckhockie interceptors and improvements to the sewage treatment plant;

AND WHEREAS, the Board of Education of the City of Kingston, New York, is authorized to construct an addition to the existing sewer system of said City of Kingston, consisting of the Roundout and Ponckhockie interceptors and improvements to the sewage treatment plant, including land or rights in land, buildings and original furnishings, and the estimated cost thereof is $226,000, and all in accordance with maps, plans and specifications prepared by the Kingston City Engineer, and Brinlier & Larios, P.E., approved or to be approved by the Commissioner of the State of New York and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the United States of America, on file in the office of the City Clerk of said Board of Public Works and hereby approved;

Section 2. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing therefor is $226,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes $84,690 in Federal funds to be provided by the Federal Government, and the balance of $141,310 in serial bonds to finance the balance of said object and purpose and the collection of taxes upon the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of said notes and bonds and the interest thereon.

The City of Kingston, New York, will receive a grant of Federal funds in an amount not to exceed $84,690, to be expended for the construction of the Roundout and Ponckhockie interceptors and improvements to the sewage treatment plant, including land or rights in land, buildings and original furnishings, and the estimated cost thereof is $226,000, and all in accordance with maps, plans and specifications prepared by the Kingston City Engineer, and Brinlier & Larios, P.E., approved or to be approved by the Commissioner of the State of New York and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the United States of America, on file in the office of the City Clerk of said Board of Public Works and hereby approved;

Section 3. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing therefor is $226,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes $84,690 in Federal funds to be provided by the Federal Government, and the balance of $141,310 in serial bonds to finance the balance of said object and purpose and the collection of taxes upon the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of said notes and bonds and the interest thereon.

The City of Kingston, New York, will receive a grant of Federal funds in an amount not to exceed $84,690, to be expended for the construction of the Roundout and Ponckhockie interceptors and improvements to the sewage treatment plant, including land or rights in land, buildings and original furnishings, and the estimated cost thereof is $226,000, and all in accordance with maps, plans and specifications prepared by the Kingston City Engineer, and Brinlier & Larios, P.E., approved or to be approved by the Commissioner of the State of New York and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the United States of America, on file in the office of the City Clerk of said Board of Public Works and hereby approved;

Section 4. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing therefor is $226,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes $84,690 in Federal funds to be provided by the Federal Government, and the balance of $141,310 in serial bonds to finance the balance of said object and purpose and the collection of taxes upon the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of said notes and bonds and the interest thereon.

The City of Kingston, New York, will receive a grant of Federal funds in an amount not to exceed $84,690, to be expended for the construction of the Roundout and Ponckhockie interceptors and improvements to the sewage treatment plant, including land or rights in land, buildings and original furnishings, and the estimated cost thereof is $226,000, and all in accordance with maps, plans and specifications prepared by the Kingston City Engineer, and Brinlier & Larios, P.E., approved or to be approved by the Commissioner of the State of New York and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the United States of America, on file in the office of the City Clerk of said Board of Public Works and hereby approved;

Section 5. Each of the notes and bonds authorized by this Ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Law and said notes and bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds shall be general obligations of the City and the City hereby irrevocably pledges its faith and credit to the punctual payment of the principal thereof and the interest thereon and there shall be raised annually by tax on all the taxable real property in the City a sum sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on said notes and bonds in the same shall become due and payable.

Section 6. Subject to the provisions of this Ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and to the provisions of §53.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council of the City of Kingston, in the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the notes and bonds, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 7. It is further stated that the validity of the notes and bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall not be affected by the fact that the City of Kingston is not authorized to expend money or if the obligations authorized by the ordinance have been complied with as of the date of publication of this ordinance, and are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication.

Section 8. This ordinance, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full, after approval by the Mayor in THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN, and in the KINGSTONIAN, the official newspaper of the City, together with a copy of the resolution authorizing the form provided by Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Without knowing to whom he was speaking, a stranger once asked Irvin Cobb what kind of a person Cobb was.

"Well, to be perfectly frank with you, replied the Kentucky prodigy, Cobb is related to my wife by marriage, and if you don't object to a brief sketch, with all the technicalities eliminated, I should say that in appearance he is rather bulky, standing six feet high, not especially beautiful, a light roan in color, with a black mane. His figure is undecided, but might be called bunched in places. He belongs to several clubs, including the Yonkers Pressing Club and the Park Hill Democratic Marching Club, and has always, like his father who was a Confederate soldier, voted the Democratic ticket. He has had one wife and one child and still has them. In religion he is an Innocent Bystander."

Forecast Light Rainfall in Area For 7-Day Period

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Extended forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau for the period from 7 p.m. today to 7 p.m. Wednesday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures will average near normal with no major day-to-day changes. Rainfall will be generally light with a chance of some showers early next week. Rainfall will probably average under a quarter-inch.

Western New York — Temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees below normal. Rather cool over the weekend, then warming slowly next week. Precipitation will average one-half to three-quarters of an inch in scattered showers toward the middle of next week. Highs, 73-80; nighttime lows 53-58.

Mild Air Over Most of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's weather showed only minor changes today, with mild temperatures in most areas and a few wet spots.

Thundershowers fell during the night in scattered sections from the Kentucky-Tennessee area westward through Kansas and along the eastern slopes of the Rockies. Showers also sprinkled sections of Nevada.

Sides were clear in the Southeast and in the middle and upper Mississippi valley and partly cloudy in most other parts of the country.

Temperatures were a little higher in most areas than 24 hours earlier. The 50s were confined to the central Plateau region and from North Dakota through the northern Great Lakes and the North Atlantic states.

The 70s and 80s were general in southern Atlantic states westward through the central and southern Plains and into the southwest desert region. The 60s prevailed in most other sections.

The mercury soared to 103 in Russell, Kan., Thursday and reached 100 degrees and higher in many cities in the South. Thundershowers brought temporary relief from the heat in some sections. Nearly five inches of rain drenched Sarasota, Fla.

Of Habits and Conduct

Bids Business Take Careful Inventory

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—The time has come for business to take a careful inventory of its habits and conduct, former Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., said today.

Too many businessmen, he said, "do not fully comprehend the balance between their privileges and their duties — particularly their responsibilities to government."

Only Self to Blame

"Many tend to sail along with a detached point of view, as though government was something apart from their responsibilities," Bush said in a speech prepared for the 67th annual convention of the New York State Bankers Association.

About 800 bankers and their wives attended the three-day session, which ended today.

Bush said business had only itself to blame for recent tightening of federal tax law concerning expense accounts. The Senate, he said, had been shocked by evidences of charging personal and recreation items as business expense.

"What reasonable excuse could exist for the maintenance of yachts and hunting lodges, luxurious rest homes for executives' vacations, the use of corporation airplanes for purely vacation trips...?" he asked.

Bush said "the time has come for business to take a careful inventory of its habits and conduct, and tighten the reins on expenses all along the line, but particularly in the area of corporate living, travel and entertainment."

Raps JFK's Policies

He urged businessmen to play a more active role in government. "The personal petition by active businessmen is far more effective than the solicitation of favor by the professional lobbyist," he said.

Bush also criticized the Kennedy Administration for "falling back on the same discredited, unproven policies" of the 1930s and "deliberately planning a huge deficit of $10 to $12 billion on top of this year's fiscal figure of $8 billion plus."

As a result, he said, the nation faced a two-year deficit of more than $20 billion, the highest in peacetime history.

This, he said, sounded more like "Alice in Wonderland" than a New Frontier, Bush asserted.

Boy Scout News

Scout Pack 18 Announces Award

A genius of the month contest highlighted the monthly meeting of Cub Scout Pack 18 held recently at St. Mary's School hall. The opening ceremony was presented by Den 1.

Prizes were awarded to the winners of the contest: Den 1—Jay Maurer, and Joseph Conger; Den 2—Ray Kilmer, and George Norton; Den 5—Richie Ambrose, and R. Vertitis.

Racing model kits were distributed to the Cubs to assemble and prepare for next month's racing derby.

The following awards were presented to the Cubs by Advancement Chairman Francis Vertitis: Bobcat—George Norton; Wolf with gold and silver arrows, John Moynihan; Wolf and gold arrow, Peter McDonald; silver arrow under the Wolf, Richard Ambrose, and gold and silver arrows under the Wolf, R. Norton, all of Den 5.

Dinner bars were awarded to the following: Den 1—Robert Bouchard, Joseph Conger, Joseph Duffy; John Matthews, Jay Maurer and Robert Whitney; Den 5—John Moynihan, Peter McDonald and G. Norton.

A report was given by Cubmaster Bouchard on the recent trip to Stewart Air Force Base on Armed Forces Day. Thanks was expressed to the Cubs for assisting the Knights of Columbus decorate graves at St. Mary's Cemetery for Memorial Day. Plans for an up-coming scrap paper drive were discussed.

A skit, "When Dad Was a Boy" was presented by Den 5, directed by Den Mothers Mary Moynihan and Virginia Ambrose. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Cub Scout Pack 5 Observes Theme

The cubbing theme, Things That Go, was observed Tuesday by Cub Pack 5 at its monthly meeting in Jewish Community Center June 11. Cubmaster Robert A. Kurland presided.

Den 1 and 2 opened the meeting with a flag ceremony. Den 1 presented a skit with all members. Den 2 also had prepared an original skit.

Both dens used for props models of cars, planes and ships made by the boys for the theme.

Mrs. Robert Kurland is den mother for Den 1 and Mrs. Sam Berger is den mother for Den 2. Terry Gertner was inducted into Cub Scouts and was awarded his Bobcat Badge. Cub Scout David Gordon put out the Lights of Advancement in farewell to his final meeting with the Pack. Pack 5 will hold an outing at the Catskill Game Farm on June 23.

Presbys to Hear Priest and Rabbi

RENSSELAERVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest and a rabbi will preach this summer at the Presbyterian Church in this community near Albany.

The Rev. George Ford, retired pastor of Corpus Christi Church in New York City, will speak at a service Aug. 31 conducted by the Rev. Carlyle Adams, stated clerk of the Presbytery of Albany.

The rabbi has not been selected. Other guest speakers for the summer services include ministers of several Protestant denominations to the southwest.

Dutchess Man Heads Local Singer Store

William J. Parmele, of Woodmere Park, Poughkeepsie, assumed the position of manager of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. store at 270 Fair Street, recently replacing Edward O'Donnell who has been transferred to the Poughkeepsie store of the company.

Parmele came here from the Newburgh store which he managed for about three years. Prior to that he was outside sales representative assigned to the Poughkeepsie store.

The Kingston Singer Sewing Center on Fair Street serves the entire Ulster County area.

Votes on School

Qualified voters in the Dutchess County village of Millbrook were slated to go to the polls to decide the proposition calling for $582,000 for a nine-room elementary school. A total of 354—one-third of those who were qualified to register—are eligible to vote today.
